LONG FLIGHT TO EL PASO FULL OF DANGER

Aviators to Pass Over Wild Territory During Journey In Texas

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 20.—Taking the air at 9:39 a. m. today, the globe circling flyers left on their long and hazardous flight from Dallas to El Paso, amidst the farewell shouts of thousands of spectators. They faced a 650 mile task in today's jump.

Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith was the first to take off, followed by Lieutenant Erik Nelson and Lieutenant Leigh Wade.

Lieutenant Smith had completely recovered from a slight nausea contracted on his hop from Muskogee to Dallas. He was unable to attend last night's reception festivities, but was "feeling first rate" this morning.

Following Railroad

The total flying distance due to a revised course was approximately 650 miles from Love field to El Paso. Temperatures were slightly below normal and a thirty-five mile an hour head wind greeted the flyers.

The flyers will follow the Texas & Pacific railroad directly across Texas, only deviating from their course when within 150 miles of El Paso.

Because of unsatisfactory landing conditions throughout the sparsely populated areas beyond Sweetwater, the birdmen will have the railroad that passes over

STARTS DRY FIGHT

MANILA, Sept. 20.—Refusal of the American consul-general at Hong Kong to permit liquor to clear for Manila and information from London that similar action will be taken there today brought on a new prohibition fight in the Philippines. A state department order of June 27, based on the opinion of the attorney-general of June 24, holding that the eighteenth amendment extends to the Philippines, was said to be the basis of the consular refusal to permit the shipment of liquors to the island.

"Chang Tso Lin must relinquish his position in Manchuria," said Wu. "If he does not, we will make him do so within two months, using the full army, navy and aviation strength of the government."

Wu declared that the central government assumes full responsibility for the protection of foreign lives and property in Manchuria, and means to maintain the status quo of the Japanese South Manchuria railroad.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20.—The Chekiang armies under General Lu Yung Hsiang today held their lines against the combined attacks of the Kiangsu and Fukien troops, despite terrific attacks launched in the vicinity of Nanziang.

Thousands of reinforcements from the southern portion of the Chekiang province have been brought up and rushed to the front to fill gaps in the line caused by the mutiny and desertion of the third army, consisting of the first and second divisions, to General Chi Hsieh Yuan, commanding the Fukien troops.

Pound On Lines

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The boom of guns to the northwest of Shanghai this afternoon indicated that the Kiangsu besiegers have emplaced more heavy artillery and were severely pounding the Chekiang lines, according to agency dispatches from the Chinese seaport.

Fighting continued throughout the night. General Lu Yung Hsiang, commander of the Chekiang forces, was holding his lines at noon today, however, these dispatches asserted, but military experts declared that the Kiangsu activities indicated he must soon shorten his lines of defense and fall closer to Shanghai.

NAVY CHIEF TO CONDUCT SURVEY OF SERVICE

Secretary Asserts President Makes No Reference to Speeches on Coast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—President Coolidge today ordered Secretary of the Navy Wilbur to institute a thorough survey to determine the relative importance of airplanes, battleships and submarines in the first line of the national defense.

Adjust Differences

It was indicated that peace, or at least an armistice, had been effected between the president and the secretary of the navy and that any differences of opinion which might have existed between them had been adjusted, for the present, and pending the forthcoming naval inquiry.

Wilbur said that the president made no reference during their conference to his speeches on the Pacific coast dealing with the relations between the United States and Japan or the need for greater appropriations to keep the United States navy from falling below the standard set by the Washington armament conference.

Survey Necessary

"The president suggested," Wilbur told newspapermen upon leaving the White House, "that I should at once appoint a special board of officers of the navy to make a relative valuation of airplanes, submarines and battleships.

"It is necessary that this survey may be made at once so that

The boys were picked up on North San Fernando road yesterday afternoon, as they were trudging manfully toward the hills, bearing on their persons such camping equipment as they had been able to mobilize by stealth.

The father of the Schlosser boy was notified by the Glendale police and ordered that the boys be held until he can arrive and take them home.

Business Men Capitalize For $1,000,000 and Start Offices in Six Cities; Extend Invitation For Public to Invest

The opening of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation, with a chain of offices in several of the leading cities of Southern California, is announced by Marvin Smith, president of the organization, who has established the Glendale office of the concern at 218 South Brand boulevard. The other branches are in Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Burbank, Hollywood and Santa Monica.

With an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000, the Gibraltar Finance Corporation plans to dispose of the first unit of $100,000 at the opening of its operations, selling two shares of preferred and one of common stock for $200. The preferred stock will bear 8 per cent interest on a par value of $100, and it is stated by John Lamberty, manager of the Glendale office, that the average earnings on the common stock of similar organizations is about $10 on each share of the common while the amount paid into the surplus fund also averages around $10.

Starts Next Monday

The corporation will start operations Monday, September 22, and Mr. Lamberty states that the directors have already taken a large block of the stock to finance the first transactions of the concern.

"We decided to open the Glendale office," declares Mr. Lamberty, "after a careful survey of the local conditions, which we found most favorable for a concern of the nature of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation. There are many people here, we believe, who have a limited capital which they are anxious to see grow in a conservatively managed enterprise, such as we plan to conduct, and who would be ready to invest their

FIND JEWELS OF WOMAN IN DEATH MYSTERY

Gems of Slayer's Victim, At First Thought Stolen, Located by Police

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Mystery surrounding the strange murder of Mrs. Clifton R. Hunn, 50-year-old wife of a Chicago ink manufacturer, who was beaten with a hammer and then shot to death in her Pasadena home last night, deepened today when the woman's jewels, valued at $30,000, believed at first to have been taken by the slayer, were found in a trunk in the death apartment.

While detectives were recovering the jewels, a state-wide man hunt was launched for Harry Garbutt, alias Connor, former inmate of Joliet, Ill., prison and friend of the slain woman, whom police accuse of the murder.

Search for Woman

Search was also made for a wealthy Los Angeles woman, with whom Garbutt resided, according to the police. No trace of this woman or Garbutt was found by the authorities today.

A $5,000 ring on Mrs. Hunn's hand was untouched and a mystery motive for the killing, which police refused to disclose, was being investigated by the authorities.

Garbutt is a member of a prominent Chicago family, the authorities asserted.

HONORS FOR MUSICIANS IN STATE CONTEST

State Trophy Comes to This City Second Time In Annual Competition

"Glendale wins band contest." That is the brief message flashed to the Glendale Lodge of Elks, No. 1289, by Earl S. Patterson, exalted ruler, from the annual state convention of Elks at Catalina Island, yesterday, at the close of the competition for the Montgomery Moulton trophy, in which bands from various lodges throughout the state participated.

This makes the second time the Glendale Elks' band has won the trophy, scoring first at the state convention at Eureka last year, and one more victory will give the Glendale lodge permanent possession of the silver cup.

Remarkable Record

The two decisive victories of the local band are considered the more remarkable in view of the fact that the band was organized by James Apffel, past exalted ruler, only a little over a year ago, and, under the manageship of Morris Burke, it has accomplished what is regarded as a striking record in its brief existence.

William Osterman, who occupied the position of band leader, relinquished the baton when the Glendale band began rehearsing for this year's contest, as he belongs to the band of the Santa Monica lodge and the rules prohibited him from sharing in the competition with any other organization than his own.

J. J. Burke, 1242 South Maryland street, was appointed band leader to succeed Mr. Osterman, and the manner in which he has led his musicians to first place against the state-wide competition at Catalina Island, has stamped him as a prime favorite with the local "Brother Bills."

BUILDING AT CALIFORNIA AND BRAND TO START AT ONCE

Apartment Structure to Have 150 Rooms and Contain Number of Stores

A four-story Class A apartment hotel containing 150 rooms, is to be erected at once on the northwest corner of North Brand boulevard and California avenue, at a total cost of approximately $500,000, it is announced by M. C. Calkins of R. N. Stryker, realtor, 215 North Brand boulevard, through whom the deal was handled.

The builders are Boyd W. Doyle of Pasadena and Leslie P. Mick of Los Angeles, who have purchased the corner from Dr. E. H. Parker, its owner for some years.

Messrs. Doyle and Mick are already associated in a number of important hotel properties, including the new William Penn hotel of Whittier, just completed at a cost of $400,000. This is their first investment in Glendale, according to Mr. Calkins, but very probably not their last.

Soon to Start

It is expected that actual building operations on this new Glendale hotel will start within thirty days, and that it will be completed and ready for occupancy not later than May 1, 1925. When completed it will be handsomely furnished.

The plans, which are being prepared by the Mann-Walker Building Co., of Los Angeles, call for reinforced concrete construction, 104 by 150 feet in size, the foundations to be made rigid enough to support additional stories at a later time, if warranted.

Thirteen Stores

Each of the 150 rooms will be provided with a tile bath, the plans reveal. The exterior will be of buff with terra cotta trimmings of a very attractive design. There will be a spacious lobby and mezzanine, thirteen stores and garage space for forty cars on the ground floor. There will also be a large basement for a service department and other needs of the hotel's guests.

The Mann-Walker Co. are to be contractors for the structure as well as its designers, states Mr. Calkins.

DEBATE PROGRAM TO BE ARRANGED

League Will Plan Schedule For Season; Glendale To Enter Contest

From the student body viewpoint the biggest event looming on the Glendale Union High school horizon, of other than football hue, is the meeting of the Southern California Debating league in Los Angeles on September 27, when the debating schedule for the season will be arranged.

The local high school has been a member of the league for several years, last year contesting in that league alone, according to Elmer Worthy, G. U. H. S. debating coach. Before the opening of last year's season this school withdrew from the Central league, he states, for the purpose of concentrating all efforts on success in the larger league.

Veterans Are Back

Bonnie Jean Lockwood, secretary of debating, is determined that debating success this year shall overshadow even athletics, and for that reason the high school debaters are chafing at the bit to be off to what they are determined must be victory. Besides Miss Lockwood, the experienced debaters back this fall include Jack Finch, Velma Bolton, Dorothy Buss, Eugenia Henry, Fred Appleton and Marie Briggs, and, in addition, much promising new timber, declares Coach Worthy.

Another matter agitating high school pupils is the much-needed fence around the Broadway High school athletic field, which it has been estimated will cost $2500. The board of education has agreed to meet part of the expense, and Leslie Lavelle, student body president, announces a Philharmonic orchestra concert, to be held at the Broadway High school auditorium October 27, to swell the fund. This will be a "pay assembly" for the pupils, and will be given in co-operation with Dante La Franchi, secretary of assemblies.

Senior Elections

And then—senior class elections are presently to upset the equilibrium of things. They will be held after an assembly soon to be held for the purpose of introducing the candidates.

Richard Ryan, Marjorie Temple and Wendell Beauchamp were nominated last year by petition for president of the senior class. For vice-president Robert Hatch has been nominated. Katherine Nelson is the only candidate running for secretary. Velma Pierce and Katherine Wilson are running for treasurer.

Owing to the lapse of time since the nominations last semester and the elections this semester, it has been thought best by the seniors to get more petitions out.

Donald McMillan, the junior class president last year, tried hard to get a class meeting before school closed, but found it impossible, so the class elections have been deferred until this semester.

The editor for this year's Stylus will be elected at the same time the class elections are held, is the report. It is not known yet who is running, but new petitions will be got out soon for candidates.

Junior class elections took place last semester just before school. closed. Fred Fallis was elected class president; Read Stearman, vice-president; Horace Brown, secretary, and Charles Lundie, treasurer.

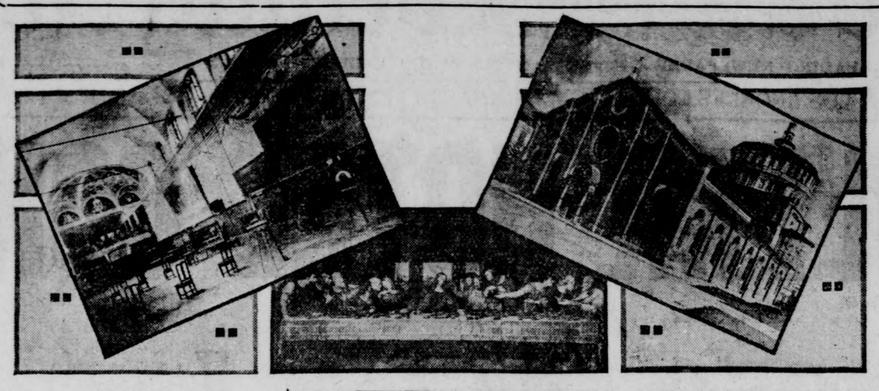
Art Objects For Forest Lawn Park

At the left is the old refectory on the end wall of which Leonardo Da Vinci painted "The Last Supper." At the right, the church of Santa Maria delle Grazie, adjoining which are the convent and refectory buildings. In the lower center is a reproduction of Da Vinci's masterpiece.



The art treasures of Southern California are to be materially increased as the result of the European trip recently taken by Hubert L. Eaton, chairman of the advisory board of Forest Lawn Memorial park of this city.

Mr. Eaton announced today that he had been successful in completing negotiations with Italian authorities, sculptors and stained glass artists for a number of pieces of sculpture, both originals and full-sized copies, and for a full-sized reproduction in stained glass of Leonardo Da Vinci's masterpiece, "The Last Supper."

"The trip was undertaken," said Mr. Eaton, "in the furtherance of the plans of my associates and myself to develop the Forest Lawn 220-acre park at Glendale as one of the striking beauty spots of the Southland and to obtain for it statuary and other art objects that will give it a high educational and inspirational value to the community. For this reason I visited the leading art centers of Europe to arrange to secure certain examples of the immortal works of the world's greatest artists as could be found, typifying the highest instincts in man, the beauty and sweetness of life and confidence in the Creator.

Gets Co-operation

"Through the kind offices of Arminio Conte, who was formerly consul general in New York City, the doors of the higher offices of the Ministry of Arts at Rome were opened to my party, and Prof. Armando Vene was appointed to accompany us in our Italian travels. I found among the higher authorities the heartiest co-operation from men who realized the strength of our plan to beautify a great park surrounding a mausoleum with the finest examples of art, and thus to make a civic asset out of what is too often but a civic liability.

"At Assisi we visited the cathedral of St. Francis. It was late afternoon. The sun was setting behind a large stained glass window, the magnificence and softness of the color work of which enthralled our party. Its beauty stole into our souls like music. I turned to the priest accompayning us and said: 'It is sad to think that the production of such marvelous color work on glass should have become a lost art.'

"'On the contrary,' said the priest, through our interpreter. 'We had an accident to that window but a few months ago. The four panes in the right-hand corner were broken. We were able, however, to have them restored by the direct descendant of the artist family which did the main window several centuries ago.'

Calls On Artist

"Needless to say, I secured from the priest the address of the studio and, with our party, left immediately for Perugia, where, on the folowing morning, we called on the artist. Sig. Conte, Prof. Vene and myself were respectfully greeted by a studio worker, who told us that, like the majority of the others in this studio, several generations of his family had been employed there.

"We were then presented to the present head of the artist family, and were surprised to find that she was a young woman still under 30. To her the formulas and family traditions of centuries had been handed down, and it was under her supervision that the excellence of the stained glass work was being fuly sustained.

"I immediately arranged for certain stained glass work to be done at this studio for our Forest Lawn mausoleum.

"Coming to Milan we visited the church of Santa Maria Delle Grazie, where, on the end wall of the old refectory, we saw Leonardo Da Vinci's wonderful painting of "The Last Supper." Notwithstanding every effort of the Italian Ministry of Arts to preserve it, we were told that this painting, which is twenty-seven feet long by nine feet deep, was slowly, but surely, being eaten away and must, within a matter of years, be lost to the world.

Impresses Napoleon

"It was this picture which impressed Emperor Napoleon so deeply that he ordered it protected during the occupation by his troops, though, contrary to his orders, the hall was used as a stable.

"Recalling the wonderful effects in stained glass produced by the studio we had just visited at Perugia, I conceived immediately the idea of suggesting a commission to that studio to reproduce "The Last Supper" in full size in stained glass, thus saving to the world the greater part of the beauty, softness and soul of this masterpiece.

"We are now arranging with our engineers for a suitable place to install this great work at Forest Lawn when it shall be completed, which, however, I am informed, must take at least two years."

Commissions, it is understood, were placed by Mr. Eaton with leading Italian sculptors for the full-sized reproduction of certain statuary which, upon completion, will be brought to Forest Lawn, where already works of many local and foreign artists in marble and bronze have been placed, to the enrichment of the community.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BIBLE COURSE
Conducted by REV. C. H. CHRISMAN
GOSPEL TABERNACLE CHURCH
Louise and Chestnut
Sunday Nights, 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock

I.—THE INSPIRATION OF THE BIBLE

The Bible, of course, was not actually written by the hand of God. On but three occasions have we any record of Deity writing. The Ten Commandments (Ex. 31:18); the writing on Belshazzar's wall (Dan. 5:5); Christ writing in the dust of the temple floor when the Pharisees brought in the woman accused of sin (John 8:6-8). In the first and last cases the writing was quickly obliterated by man. Perhaps this was a significant prophecy of the treatment that would be accorded God's word throughout future generations.

1.—The Definition of Inspiration. "Inspiration is that divine influence upon the minds of men which renders a speaker or writer infallible in the communication of truth." Inspiration should be distinguished from "revelation" which is that act of God by which He communicates truth not known before to the human mind. Also it should not be confused with "illumination" which is the divine quickening of the mind by which it is enabled to understand truth already revealed.

2.—The Scriptural Foundation for Inspiration. There are two passages which should command our attention. II Timothy 3:16, "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God." The word "inspiration" here literally means, God-breathed. It is here asserted by Paul that the writings of the Old Testament were the result of a divine influence exerted by God upon the minds of the writers. The second passage is II Peter I: 21. "Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." The Greek word "moved" signifies, literally, to be "borne along" as by a strong and almost irresistible force or influence. Thus the Scriptures did not spring from man's own unaided intellect, but were written under the direct promptings of the Holy Spirit. This being true, the writers were kept from all error.

Note: In reference to the rendering of the Revised Version of II Timothy 3:16, Dean Burgon has pronounced it "the most astonishing as well as calamitous literary blunder of the age."

3—The Method of Inspiration. While the writers of the Bible claimed inspiration in nearly 4000 passages of Scripture, it is doubtful if they could have explained the exact operation or method any more than one could clearly explain the work of "conversion," the "witness of the Spirit" or the taste of an orange. It was not "natural inspiration." This theory claims that the Bible writers were inspired only in the sense that the writers of classic literature are inspired. It was not inspiration by "illumination" such as may be possessed by all believers. If this were true there would be no reason why a new Bible should not be produced, but none who claim this view have ventured such a task. It was not strictly speaking "dictation." There were certain liberties given for the style and individuality of each writer. It was "plenary inspiration." That is, it was full and complete. God was responsible for every word of it, as responsible as though He had written every word of it by His own hand.

4—The Extent of Inspiration. Sometimes the exact words of God are recorded as in the case of the Ten Commandments. And, also, in the words spoken by God at the Baptism and Transfiguration of Jesus. "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." In hundreds of Scriptures it is said that God put the exact words into the mouths of the speakers. In some cases the authors were left to choose their own words in expressing divine truth. This is seen in the four records of the inscription on the Cross:

Matthew: "This is Jesus . . . . the King of the Jews."

Mark: " . . . . the King of the Jews."

Luke: "This is . . . . the King of the Jews."

John: " . . . . Jesus of Nazereth, the King of the Jews."

Total: "This is Jesus of Nazereth, the King of the Jews."

"From the divine side the Holy Spirit gave through men, clearly and faithfully, that which He wished to communicate. From the human side that communication often came forth in language such as men themselves would naturally have chosen."—Evans.

5—The Accuracy of Inspiration. In spite of all that has been written against the Bible, no error or contradiction of any kind has ever been proven to have existed in the Scriptures as originally given by God. In Luke 22:37 Christ proves to the Sadduces the doctrine of the resurrection by reminding them of the tense used by God when He spoke to Moses of Abraham. In Gal. 3:16 Paul bases his argument for salvation by grace on the single letter "s". The Egyptian treasure city of Pithon, built for Rameses II by the Hebrews in the time of their bondage has recently been unearthed and the walls of the houses were made of sun-baked bricks, some with straw and some without straw. This agrees with Exodus 5:7 written 3500 years ago. "Ye shall no more give the people straw to make bricks as heretofore."

The Bible, as we are told in Timothy 3:16, is written for our correction, and it must, therefore, be, in the very nature of the case, free from inaccuracies. And this we believe to be true, for it is the only book on earth that was edited in heaven.

The subject for Sunday night, September 21, will be, "Fulfilled Prophecy—The Proof of Inspiration." All young people invited to attend. The course is repeated on Wednesday nights, at 7 o'clock for adults.

LEGION MEMBERS TURN HOMEWARDS

Glendale Delegates to Tour East Before Starting Journey Westward

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 20.—After enjoying the hospitality of St. Paul and Minneapolis for the past week, as well as participating in the greatest American Legion convention ever held since the organization of former service men and women occurred in the days immediately following the war, the 200 Californians who made the trip to St. Paul on special trains are bidding farewell today to the Twin Cities.

The return routes of the delegates will be varied. Many Californians will spend a week or more visiting the famous lakes country of Minnesota, while others have planned to penetrate the woods of the north on a combined fishing and hunting tour.

Will Visit Canada

E. W. Gilliland, second vice-commander of Glendale Post No. 127, and Mrs. Gilliland, president of the auxiliary unit of the Glendale post, are listed among the Californians who are contemplating a visit to Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland plan to leave tonight for Montreal, later going to Quebec and Toronto, before starting the southward journey which will take them to Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richards, also of Glendale, who made the journey to St. Paul in their automobile, will tour the Central West states before reaching their home city.

Others from Southern California plan to visit Chicago, Kansas City and the Grand Canyon on the homeward journey, while several have secured transportation on railroad lines which will take them to Portland and Seattle, from where they will sail for Southern California by boat.

Directors of Humane Society Hold Meeting

The directors of the Glendale Humane society, meeting at the Chamber of Commerce last night, received a number of reports on the activities of the organization and also discussed at some length the preliminary details in connection with the building that the society proposes to erect on West Ivy street.

The board will meet every Friday night until the plans for the building program are completed, and the members of the society will also be permitted to attend the conferences of the board. The directors present at last night's meeting were Edwin G. Kulp, president; A. G. Hann, A. D. Smith, J. H. Murphy, Mrs. L. M. Card, Mrs. Josephine Hoadley and Mrs. Zink.

POLICE SEEK SLAYER OF WOMAN

Former Convict, Wanted for Murder, May Be Hiding In Glendale, Is Belief

Arrest of Harry Garbutt, alias Harry Connor, former Illinois convict, for the brutal murder of Mrs. C. H. Hunn, wealthy Chicago woman found dead last night in her Pasadena home, was expected hourly today. After beating Mrs. Hunn with a hammer, the man shot and killed her, then fled.

The Pasadena police have asked the Glendale police to make every effort to apprehend Garbutt, who is thought to be in this vicinity. He is described as 45 years old, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, is smooth shaven, has pointed features, and, at the time the crime was committed, wore a light checked suit and a cap.

Killed for Jewels

Garbutt, who, the authorities claimed, was released from Joliet prison in Illinois through the influence of his asserted victim, killed the wealthy woman for $30,000 worth of jewels, with

Murphy's Worthy Project

There is a need in every community for wholesome entertainment—the kind of entertainment that causes those who seek it to forget the day's worries and cares, and, at times, engage in side-splitting laughter.

The good old fashioned laugh is an excellent nerve tonic, and aids in the digestion of one's food, and good digestion promotes good health, and good health aids in keeping one's disposition agreeable.

Summing everything up, where there is wholesome entertainment in a community, the people live in more perfect harmony with one another, and, therefore, make a better class of citizens.

That wholesome entertainment referred to has been furnished for the past five months in Glendale and vicinity by Murphy's Comedians in a large tent in this community.

So productive of laughter, and yet so clean and full of valuable moral lessons are the plays that have been given in that pavilion, that from 10,000 to 12,000 are entertained by these great comedians every week, it often being impossible for several hundred people to obtain seats.

Now, at the suggestion of thousands of people who have learned of the ability of Murphy's Comedians as high class theatre entertainers, the request has been made for a permanent theatre building, modernly equipped and of sufficient size to accommodate the people who will attend.

The site for the new building is at the northeast corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, and never has a company of entertainers received a more hearty welcome in a city than has Murphy's Comedians in this enterprising adventure.

The Glendale Evening News bespeaks for the lot of good fellows connected with this very popular theatre the greatest of success in this worthy undertaking.

A meeting of the women is called for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in Room 3 of the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

Builders of Glendale may wonder what begets success. Some there are who do not know, perhaps. According to authorities "doing something" is the prime motive. Doing many things well causes a few poor accomplishments to sink into insignificance.

Success is not based on innate capability but determination. Real progress is made by those who take chances, who profit by failure, who see their mistakes and correct them.

People who placed their faith in Glendale, backed this city with their dollars, saw their investments rise, fall and rise again, they are the ones who have profited.

Community builders are people with courage. And Glendale has but begun to grow. More courage to you.

Baseball fever is at its height. With Washington gaining a full game on the New York Yankees in the American league race and the Pirates gaining better hold on the National pennant, the fans are having their talkfest to their hearts' content as to the results. Who will play and who will win the world series is a subject more popular than the world court or politics.

In the Pacific coast league the San Francisco Seals appear to be slipping and the windup may find either Seattle or Oakland on top of the pack. It is altogether possible, but let the baseball bugs figure it out, or rather talk it out.

While brush fires in forest areas of southern California are spectacular the real damage is yet to come. When it rains look out for floods. There will be nothing to stop the torrents in burned areas and this water all heads toward the San Gabriel and Los Angeles river.

The county's flood control program will be too late to avert some fo the floods, but, thanks to the foresightedness of J. W. Reagan, chief engineer, plans are ready, bonds are being sold and action will be taken as fast as it is humanly possible to so do.

LEADERS OF 'Y' DRIVE IN APPEAL FOR QUICK ACTION

Thousands of Citizens Have So Far Failed To Subscribe; Immediate Decision, Big Need, States Chairman M'Dill

With $174,174 still needed to reach the goal of $275,000 by next Tuesday night, the Y. M. C. A. building campaign faces failure unless there is an immediate and adequate response from the thousands of citizens who have not yet subscribed. But 593 persons have thus far contributed and they have given a total of $100,826, an average of almost $200.

The workers are digging in harder than ever with no thought but that the friends of Glendale and Glendale boys and girls, who are to be the beneficiaries of the "Y" building, will measure up to this great community opportunity. General Chairman McDill states that the chief difficulty to rapid progress is the amount of time required to see people and he appeals to those who are interviewed to more promptly make decision and not ask the campaign representatives to call again.

Need Quick Action

In many cases the second call is also unavailing because of the absence of those to be seen. There are so many persons yet to be called upon that it will be an absolute impossibility to make the contacts and get the subscriptions unless the prospective contributors assist by signing promptly, thus permitting many additional calls.

The total of $16,676 constituted the report made last night when the workers gathered at the Presbyterian church. This amount came from 167 subscriptions. Team 14, led by Roy L. Kent, maintained its pace and for the second time in four reports led all twenty teams in day's production. Captain Kent reported $2211 and took back, as he had stated he would, the "spizzerinktum" cup from Capt. P. E. Stillman of Team 15. Capt. Bill Hoopers's team, 9, ranked second last evening with $1400. The "Live Y-ers" with $5,000 again won divisional honors and the prize headgear was placed on the expansive brow of R. Ernest Tucker, associate manager of the electrical combination. The "TNT Gang," in charge of Frank L. Fox, associate manager, was second with $4,560.

Kent's Team Leads

Captain Kent's team, 14, went into first place with total delivery taking the lead from Team 4, Capt. T. A. Wright, which had held it continuously since the opening of the campaign. The first three in grand totals are as follows:

First—Team 14—Roy L. Kent, captain, "Live-Y-ers" $8,496
Second—Team 4—T. A. Wright, captain, "Bear Cats" 7,795
Third—Team 5—W. H. Barnes, captain, "Bear Cats" 6,035

The Order of Spizzerinktum Stars initiated eleven candidates last night. These men had qualified by passing the $1,000 mark in personal production as solicitors. The new members are C. D. Lusby, C. H. Bott, D. J. Hanna, D. H. Smith, M. P. Harrison, J. S. Thompson, C. A. Suiter, T. A. Wright, A. J. Lockwood, Peter Hanson and Eugene Gordon.

The announcement at last evening's dinner that the Optimistic club had donated $1,000 toward providing one of the fifty dormitory rooms created great enthusiasm. Other organizations are urged to follow the Optimists' example. The donors of $1,000 as club or memorial rooms will have the privilege of naming the rooms and a suitably inscribed tablet will perpetuate the gift.

The women of Glendale willing to help in the Y. M. C. A. campaign during its last two days, Monday and Tuesday, are invited to attend a women's rally at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the campaign headquarters in the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Likes Glendale Best For Theatrical Project

Florence Dobinson, when asked why she came to Glendale to found a stock company, gave this most interesting answer:

"Miss Alpaugh and myself have been planning to form a theatre for the past two years, and, while we liked Glendale, we had no more reason for coming here than to another of the marvelous cities near Los Angeles. We intended an artistic success, but, to quote Henry Irving, 'we must needs have a financial success first, for no people, no money—no money, no art.' Then a body of enterprising men, a corporation, building for the future in this locality, said: "We have a plan. We have money—come to Glendale and make a success in the club playhouse, and we will build you a suitable theatre. Glendale is the fastest growing city in America. Glendale needs you, and we are sure you will make an artistic and financial success.' So there you are! We came. And do you wonder?"

INSTRUCTION IN GOLF

Golf enthusiasts of the Women's Athletic club are to begin activity on the Griffith park links next Tuesday, when they will meet at the clubhouse in the park at 11 o'clock. The first lesson will be from 12 to 2 o'clock. All lessons following will be from 11 to 1 o'clock. Those attending are to bring lunch and cups and spoons for coffee. The lessons will cost less than $1 each. Club members interested are to call Mrs. D. Michel, at glendale 2377.

Boy Scouts of Troop 11, with their parents, are to enjoy a picnic tomorrow in Griffith park. The picnickers are to meet at 10 o'clock in the morning, near the tennis courts and zoo in the park. A ball game and races will be features. First and second prizes for the races have been provided by the Glendale Sciots, who are also donating ice cream. Sciots are invited to attend.

DR. DAVIS TO SPEAK

Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, superintendent of the Pasadena district of Methodist churches, is to speak Sunday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. At night the pastor, Rev. H. C. Mullen will occupy the pulpit.

Special Communication to Organizations in Glendale

Every club, fraternal organization, union, lodge, church society and every other group is earnestly invited to make a contribution to the $275,000 Building Fund of the Glendale Y. M. C. A. We have a PLAN that makes it possible for your organization to share in this very worthy movement and perpetuate that gift in a most practical manner.

There are to be approximately 50 Dormitory Rooms in the Glendale home of the Y. M. C. A. to care for young men who are away from home. We want to have these rooms provided by various societies on the basis of $1,000 per room, and the DONOR WILL HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF NAMING THE ROOM BY PLACING THE NAME ON A DOOR-PLATE.

The organization whose name appears on the door may regard the young man who occupies that room as its perpetual guest and pleasant occasions may be planned—flowers and a card on his birthday, an invitation out on Thanksgiving dinner, invitations to homes and social events, etc.—that will mean much to a young fellow away from home. No one can estimate the value of such subscription and service.

This feature is limited to the 50 Dormitory Rooms and open ONLY to organized groups, or as Memorial Rooms. Selection of rooms for name plates will be made in the order that the pledges are filed. Remember NO CASH is asked for—the pledges are payable in TEN INSTALLMENTS, six months apart, covering five years. On this basis almost every club can take one or more rooms.

If your organization does not meet before September 23rd, when the campaign closes, will you take responsibility to get action in some way so that your club will not be left out of this splendid effort? Report your name and pledge direct to the Campaign Headquarters by Phone, Glendale 130, or hand it in to one of the campaign workers. Who will be among the first?

FOR CAMPAIGN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,

Geo. D. McDill, Chairman

TAXING THE VOTE SLACKER

The Republican League of New York has under advisement the feasibility of action by Congress, which would penalize by disenfranchisement all qualified voters found guilty of habitual non-voting, or those who have failed, through their own negligence, to appear at the polls on three successive elections.

Such a law would, without doubt, be effective. At least, there would be a mighty howl go up from those deprived of their franchise. But, it is a question whether such a law would be constitutional or could be enforced.

A better plan is suggested by the Christian Science Monitor, that of imposing a poll tax on all citizens, both men and women and advancing this tax to $5 with the proviso that all who exercised the right to vote should automatically be relieved from this tax, and that all non-voters be compelled under penalty of fine to pay. "The pocket-book, after all, is the vulnerable point," says this paper. "Some learn patriotism only as their self-interest is affected. The non-voter who is compelled to pay for his negligence in staying away from the polls might find it convenient to learn that his privilege is, in fact, a duty."

But, the mere act of voting does not make a good citizen of a man or woman. One who would not vote from patriotic motives, but because he was compelled by law to do so, or to escape paying a tax or fine, is not worth much as a citizen. He would probably give little attention to the men or issues to be voted for. He would be as great a menace to the country as the non-voter.

To educate the people in patriotic citizenship is the only way to do away with the evil of election day slackers.

LEARNING FROM EUROPE

We are rather inclined to look with disdain upon the countries of Europe, their government and the manner of living of the people. But, there are instances where we could very profitably take a lesson from these older peoples.

For instance, one of the first acts of the Irish Free State was to undertake a very extensive program of reforestation. Four million trees were set out last year on 1098 acres of land, and this year a thousand acres more will be planted. Provisions were made, also, to encourage tree planting among peasant landowners.

Again, the dense population in some European countries makes conservation of natural resources necessary. The farmers get the maximum of production from every little corner of land and every steep hillside, many peasants making a living from a little patch of ground and a goat or a cow and a few chickens. Compare this condition with the miles and miles of unused land in this country, and even the land that is wasted where a tract is under cultivation.

In the matter of diet some of the European peasants who do very hard work eat sparingly. This is both a matter of custom and necessity. French and Italian peasants are said to make a lunch of a slice of black bread and an onion or a few olives while working all day in the fields. In Finland the main diet is a very hard whole wheat bread and dried fish, and witness the record of the Finnish boys in the Olympian games.

In the matter of conservation of our natural resources, and frugality in living, many European peoples could teach us some things we ought to know.

REFUSE TO ACCEPT DEFEAT

The people who get on in the world and win greatness in any field of endeavor are those who do not know it when they are defeated, those who are successful because they do not know they failed, those who refuse to stop fighting, no matter what the odds against them. Babe Ruth, the great American base ball idol and home run king, is a good example of a man who won success and fame because he refused to accept defeat. A year ago last April Miller Huggins, the manager of the Yanks, told Ruth that he was slipping, that he had seen his best days. "Make up your mind to it," he said, "you're just about through." But Ruth said to himself that he was not slipping, he was not through, and the next day he made one of the best home runs that was ever hit. His record since that is known to every man, woman and child in the United States.

THE HOME TOWN PAPER

The home town newspaper is a vital part of the community. It is the tie that binds the community together, the connecting link between the many and varied phases of community life and development. It comes into your home with the news of your neighbors and the things that are of most interest to your city as well as news of what is going on in the world. The home town paper belongs to the community and protects it because all its interests are centered there. In that way, it is unlike the newspaper that brings into your home the advertisements of out-of-town merchants who are trying to draw away from your home community, trade, which is the life blood of any city. The interests of the community, the home town merchant and the home town newspaper are so identical that they must succeed or fail together.

PROMOTING COURTESY

On the menus of the Pullman company there appears this request, "Will you please report to the management any unusual courtesies or attention on the part of employes?" This is much better policy than that used by most big corporations who ask that inattention and discourtesy be reported, thereby placing the employe on the defensive, and making it easy for the patron to find fault. The Pullman way assumes that the employe is honorable and loyal to the company and tends to make the patron believe that he is going to get good service. Both the company and the patron are likely to have the good will of the employe if they are looking for it, and the reverse is true, also.

Speaking of meat versus milk; you can't keep your cow and eat her.

From old fields, new grain; from old books, new thoughts.

Ever notice how most people who work, walk to it?

A man with a history usually repeats himself.

Sinking men grasp, grasping men sink.

Ten Years After

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Field Marshal Haig appealed, not long ago, to the British people to raise a distress fund of £25,000 to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the war, which fell on August 4.

Commenting upon this, the Daily Mail says that the claims on the fund are simply heartrending. There are today, ten years after the war, a million ex-service men unemployed, who have marched through agony to triumph that their country might be saved and that now can nowhere find means of earning their daily bread.

Two hundred and fifty thousand disabled men have been turned adrift after a small final payment. Thirty thousand disabled men are receiving "out-patient" treatment for injuries received in the war and of these only 7000 are in receipt of allowances.

In addition to this, conditions everywhere are distressing. Russia faces famine and Germany, bankruptcy. The franc has deteriorated and also the currency of many other countries. France, deeply wounded in her pride as well as in her resources, is occupying a part of the German territory with her troops.

While England wants Germany to get upon her feet so as to supply her with a market, France is determined that she shall not become strong enough again to attack her.

The United States occupies a peculiar situation of semi-isolation. It has representatives upon the various boards of reparation, but they are merely onlookers and do not carry the authority of their government with them. If America had become a party to the treaty of Versailles, and that no matter with what reservations, had ratified the League of Nations, much of the existing trouble would have been spared.

The efforts of many interests in the United States to keep that country out of the entanglements of Europe have aided to complicate that situation. We have no means of voting directly upon the question. Whether the election of Mr. Harding was a disapproval of having anything to do with the league is a question, as many Republicans doubtless voted for him because, under him, they hoped, sooner or later, more practically to enter into relations with other countries. The claim that the seven million majority for Mr. Harding was a vote against the league was entirely unwarranted. The question of who is to blame is aside from the issue. Perhaps it was the obstinacy of Mr. Wilson, perhaps that of his opponents. But there is no doubt that if the determination to enter into the league as it was passed four times by the Senate of the United States with reservations, had been adopted, we would have been saved much of the existing distress. The trouble is that after the Great War there came a great moral slump and it is going to take us quite a while to get over it and to realize where our best interests lie.

Horoscope

Although Mars and Uranus are in malefic aspect early in the morning, Neptune exercises friendly power later in the day, according to astrology.

Talk of international difficulties may be prevalent and warning is given that trouble will be fomented at this time by unscrupulous persons.

Jealousy and envy may be widespread and most menacing to social and industrial conditions.

Both men and women are likely to be strongly affected with selfishness and should sedulously avoid egotism which will dominate many.

Again there is a favorable sign for oil and oil interests, which should benefit from some extraordinary demand on world resources.

Neptune appears to promise clearer vision on public questions, but there will be much wild and futile voting, if the stars are read right.

This should be a favorable rule under which to begin an ocean voyage and predictions are that many Americans will make late vacation journeys.

November is to be a time when army and navy activities in Great Britain interest the whole world.

An early winter is denoted for many parts of the country which may expect freak weather that will cause much travel south and west.

There is a sign making for vision regarding one's personal failings which should be beneficial.

Women probably will come into a time of great awakening to wrong interpretations of liberty and independence.

Again decided changes in customs and fashions are prognosticated, and these will be reactionary, the seers prophesy.

Persons whose birth date it is should stick to whatever niche in life they happen to occupy this year. Business affairs may be rather unsettled.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly fond of travel and change. These subjects of Virgo probably will have many Libra characteristics.

Today's Poem

CHILDHOOD

Old sorrow I shall meet again,
And Joy, perchance—but never, never,
Happy childhood, shall we twain
See each other's face forever!

And yet I would not call thee back,
Dear Childhood, lest the sight of me,
Thine old companion, on the rack
Of age, should sadden even thee.

—John Banister Tabb.

READY SAFE

A small, nervous, doubtful man entered a drug store. After asking for the proprietor, he waited impatiently for him to appear. Then:

"You are a chemist and druggist?"

"Yes."

"You have been in business for several years?"

"Yes."

"Is that your diploma hanging there?"

"Yes."

"Then give me some tooth powder."

EVIDENCE

The American was drawing the long bow. "On one occasion," he said, "I shot 999 lions."

The Englishman, determined not to be outdone began to tell a story of a man who swam from Liverpool to New York.

"Did you see him yourself?" inquired the American.

"Why, yes, of course. I was coming across the water, and our vessel passed him a mile outside New York harbor."

"Well," was the retort, "I'm glad you saw him, stranger, because you're a witness that I did it. I was that swimmer."

AMBIGUOUS

On the door of a small laundry in a Massachusetts town the following notice to patrons was posted: "Closed on account of sickness till Monday, or possibly Wednesday. I am not expected to live. Shall be unable to deliver for at least a week, in any case."

Who's Who

Out of the recent state primaries for senatorial nominations there emerge political facts perhaps more important, but none more interesting than the comeback of Coleman Livingstone Blease, former governor of South Carolina, nominated for United States senator over Representative James F. Byrnes in the Democratic run-off primary.

The nomination is equivalent to election.

Blease was born in Newberry county, S. C., Oct. 8, 1868. He studied for the bar and was admitted in 1889 and began practice in the town of Newberry. The following year he was successful in his campaign for election to the South Carolina house of representatives, and held his seat for eight years.

He next filled the post of city attorney of Newberry and then returned to the capital as a state senator. Back home again after four years he became mayor of his city. He was elected governor of his state in 1911 and served two terms, minus a few days. He resigned five days before the expiration of his term because he declined to go through with the ceremony of turning over the state house to his successor. While governor he drew the fire of his opponents for his generosity in pardoning prisoners from the state institutions.

MONSTER MURPHY MEETING

EDITORIAL

J. B. BROWN OUR PROPERTY MANAGER

The Murphy Comedians exhibited keen judgment in turning over their building contracts to the firm of J. B. Brown and Company. Certainly they could not have connected with a more reputable house of Builders.

It is not unusual for the residents of Eagle Rock, that peaceful little neighbor community of ours, to laud Mr. J. B. Brown by designating him as "THE MAN WHO BUILT EAGLE ROCK." And there is a whole lot of truth in this kindly, and appreciative attitude, that they take towards Mr. Brown, for he has, and as a matter of fact still is, contributing largely to the continued growth of both Eagle Rock and Glendale.

Mr. Brown remembers the time when it was almost impossible to drive a buggy over Brand Boulevard, the now "Little White Way" of the '.Fastest Growing City in the World." He told this writer that he at one time had to get out and help the horse by tugging at the wheels of his buggy, so deep was it settled in sand drift. And to think that was once Brand Boulevard!

A son of Texas, he came to California in 1902, and entered into the growing and commercializing of apricots, which had prolific growth in the early days. After graduating in the Engineering Department of the Polytechnic High of Los Angeles, he went to Occidental College, during the course of which he distinguished himself in the talented direction of Greek Plays. At an early age he started his successful career in the contracting business. During the great booms of 1921, he built hundreds of bungalows, and several business blocks, and of late has just completed the "Eagle Rock State Bank Building." This handsome two-story steel structure, of pressed brick, cost a little over $60,000.00. Tis last great building success in Eagle Rock, which the Los Angeles Times designated "as being the most representative building in Eagle Rock," was the completion of the R. A. McLean Motor Sales Rooms and Apartments. This fine addition to "Homeland," that Eagle Rock is commonly termed, comprises a 67x125-ft. service garage, a large show room, with a 25-ft. dome ceiling, 4 stores and 8 apartments.

A Kiwanian that boosts and encourages, Mr. Brown is a member of the Glendale, Los Angeles and Eagle Rock Realty Boards, in fact he was the organizer, and original president of the Eagle Rock Realty Board.

And this is why we say, without adulation, that the firm of J. B. Brown and Co., with the directing experience and stability of its chief executive, is a real adjunct to the proposed growth in the property end of the Murphy Comedians.

J. B. Brown and Co. are the sole Property Managers of the Murphy Comedians, and they will be responsible for the handling and the care of the enormous sale of Reserved Seat Tickets to Murphy's New Theatre, and will also build and supervise this aforementioned New Home of Comedy and Laughter, Drama and Tears.

AN EDITOR OF REAL SPUNK

As editors of this page devoted to Murphy's Theatregoers, we take the pleasure in expressing our deep appreciation of the strong and constructive attitude that the editor of the Glendale Evening News took in the early difficulties of The Murphy Comedians to establish themselves in this community. We refer to the occasion when certain interests endeavored to say who should, and who should not, advertise in the columns of that lively daily. Mr. Cowan took a stand, in fact, set a worthy example to the newspaper world, and at considerable loss of advertising space to his newspaper, accepted the advertising copy of the Murphy Comedians, and fought shoulder to shoulder with the managers of these admirable Show people for a chance to give the Glendale folks the clean laughter, and joy, that everybody is now convinced is really being given to the patrons of the Murphy Tent Theatre.

COME EARLY IF YOU WISH A SEAT

The managers of the Monster Murphy Mass Meeting, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon in the Big Comfortable Tent at Stocker and Central in Casa Verdugo, are hopeful of accommodating the Big Crowd that is expected, but those who wish a seat are advised to come early. Actors and actresses who love their art, and who put every ounce of their life into pleasing, interesting, and broadening the lives of their patrons, will, if they have the delicate touch of genius, invariably build around them thousands of people who become almost worshippers. This is what the Murphy actors and actresses have done in Glendale, and there need be no doubt in the minds of anyone, but what Thousands of Murphy Supporters will be on the grounds good and early. We take this opportunity to urge you to be at the meeting early, and after you have "heard Murphy's Message," and the other fine speakers that will address the meeting, to TAKE TIME BY THE FORELOCK, AND UTILIZE YOUR CHANCE TO RESERVE YOUR SEAT, OR SEATS, IN THE NEW THEATRE.

All Murphy Fans interested in the publication of The Murphy-Theatre-Goers will please communicate with James Fisher, Publicity Manager, 219½ E. Broadway. He will be pleased to hear from you and you can always expect courtesy treatment of any material letter or request that you care to make.

Can Get Books Of 15 Tickets

Realizing the family patronage of the Murphy Shows, the reserve seats for the new theater will be sold in books of fifteen tickets for the nominal charge of five dollars per book. One ticket being good for two children. In keeping the price of the tickets at the usual rate the Murphy property managers have accomplished a real service to the family people of Glendale. But get them early.

CLEVER STAR GIVEN ROSE BOUQUET

Boosters Express Their Appreciation by Flowers To Violet Neitz

GLENDALE, Sept. 20.—During the week, a very pleasant incident occurred in the Murphy Tent Theatre, when the Murphy Boosters' Club presented Miss Violet Neitz, the leading lady, with a beautiful bouquet of roses purchased through popular subscriptions of the fans, as a token of their regard for her and her colleagues. On the card was a little ticket "expressing the hope that she would be playing for them in the new theatre before the chilly autumn nights rolled around."

Such little expressions of appreciation go a long way in the lives of those who bring tears to our eyes, and laughs to our cheeks.

And what could the thousands of Glendalians do less, for the city, themselves and these really talented artists who have won their way into this community on real merit, than see that they get a square deal.

Nine times out of ten the biggest reward artists get is the response of their crowds to their efforts.

The entire cast of Murphy's Comedians without exception is a credit to the Stage, and that means a great deal, for the Sermon on the Mount is never preached better anywhere, than from the Stage that "speaks to one's soul."

Upon the Sale of the necessary amount of reserve seats to the New Theatre, the work of excavation will be started at once, and then the hopes of the Boosters' Club towards the Murphy Cast will come true.

GLENDALE POSTMASTER A MURPHY REGULAR

Last night in looking over the crowd at the tent, the reporter for the "Murphy theatergoers" ran across the smiling face of Postmaster Ripley Jackson. "Well, what are you doing here, Mr. Jackson?" asked the reporter in surprise. "Say, boy," said our good postmaster, "I've been holding this seat down for two hours, but it's more than worth the trouble. The laugh and evening of enjoyment is worth more than the trouble of waiting on a hard seat plus the 33 cents I paid at the box office. You will see me here next week in the same seat, at the same time." And when you get that reserved seat scheme working, Oh boy!

PERFECT NEW THEATRE ON TENT SITE

Fans to Be Given a Chance To Lend a Hand In Building

The New Murphy Theatre combined with the modern stores will be built at an estimated cost of $250,000.00. The handsome structure which will stand on the site of the present Tent Theatre will have a total frontage of 361 feet. It will be two stories high, with modern apartments and offices.

Manager Explains

Now let W. H. Lee the General Manager of J. B. Brown and Co., speak for himself, he is on the ground floor:

"We are going to build right where the Murphy tent now stands a splendid new theater home for Murphy's Inimitable Comedians, and the thousands of Murphy's fans are going to have an opportunity in putting it over.

"Owing to the staunch loyalty that these fans have to their own show, we intend to let them buy reserved tickets in advance at three for a dollar. Think of it friends, no standing in line for an hour and a half, but the certainty in advance of getting a dandy soft cushioned seat, where you want in the theater, on the night you wish to go, and the pleasure and convenience of walking in at any old time you like, that's fair enough isn't it?"

SIGN YOUR VALIDATION SLIP

GLENDALE, Sept. 20.—When you have bought your tickets tomorrow be sure to fill out the validation card and petition for your seats at once so that there will be no delay. The call for seats will be filed away in the order of their dates.

FIRST NIGHT TO EXCEL IN SPLENDOR

Murphy Promises the Very Latest and Best In Modern Comedy

GLENDALE, Sept. 20.—The first week performance in the New Theatre will surpass anything yet attempted by the Murphy Comedians. Mr. Murphy has all wires out to catch the very latest and best in modern comedies. Expense will not be considered. The only thought will be a splendid, side-splitting comedy, one that will keep Glendale laughing for several weeks to come.

Naturally there will be special features for the opening night, with beautiful decorations and a frolic and festival, in tune with the night and the "Murphy" fans.

Maintain Present Price

No extra charge will be made. The seats will be reserved by the lucky ones, or better, the early folk who take advantage to buy their tickets immediately the call goes out that the office is open.

The Theatre will be ablaze with a harmony of search lights, with a lighting effect inside fit for the Arabian Nights.

Some Will Be Left Out

It is a pity that everyone that would like to be there to witness the big spectacle will not be able. Some will have to read the stupid old sign of "SOLD OUT," but it is up to you, "buy your books first."

TICKETS TO NEW THEATRE RELEASED AT ONCE TO APPEASE CROWDS

Murphy Will Give Outline of Struggle of Theatre and Point the Road to New Palace of Comedy

GLENDALE, Sept. 20.—Stimulated to feverish activity by the constant pressure of the Murphy Comedian Fans for an immediate statement regarding developments in the plans of the New Theatre for the Murphy Show, along with some positive action in building, the Property Managers of the New Theatre have requested Mr. Murphy of the inimical Comedians to make a Public Statement at a Mass Meeting tomorrow, Sunday, afternoon, September 21st.

The big meeting will be in the now famous Tent and will commence at 2:30 p. m. sharp.

Entertain With Music

The Murphy Orchestra, that never misses bringing forth rounds and rounds of applause, will be there to entertain whilst the crowds gather.

Expect Movie Stars

Every indication points to the biggest public meeting in Glendale's history. The entire cast of actors and actresses will be on the platform, and it is almost a foregone conclusion that several of Hollywood's leading Movie Stars, who are friends and admirers of the Murphy people, will also be on the platform and pay their compliments with a few appropriate remarks.

To Tell of Bitter Struggles

Mr. Murphy will give the history and life of his Show since coming to Glendale. This story itself is a regular little drama. The constant irritations, the insinuations, false reports, intimidations and efforts to make them leave after winning the hearts and respect of their thousands of patrons, will be told by Mr. Murphy. But Murphy has won, and, Glendale people like a fighter in a just cause, especially when that fighter has the tenacity and courage to fight it out to victory.

People to Help Build

The Murphy Comedians are winning their long fight. They are now on the verge of enjoying their just rewards by watching the building of a New Theatre financed partly from the monies that will come from the sale of the thousands of reserve seat tickets that the Murphy Fans are more than anxious to buy.

Impossible to Hold Off Longer

It was the intention of the Property Managers of the Murphy Theatre, to hold the sale of the seats in the New place for at least two more weeks, but the requests were so numerous and the demand for immediate action so persistent that they have decided to make the conclusion of Mr. Murphy's address the signal for the Sale of these seats at "three for One Dollar."

New Box Office

Following the meeting, the New Offices on the grounds of the Tent Show will be opened, and every effort will be made to give quick and efficient service in the handling of the Reserve Seat Ticket books so that the old waiting in line will be avoided.

In the opinion of those who are in touch with the demand, it is claimed that enough tickets will be sold within two weeks to fill the New Theatre to capacity for at least two months or possibly three.

Old Prices

The striking feature of this Theatre is the determination of the management to keep to the old prices, even to the opening night. They will stand, as they are in the Tent, namely, three for one dollar, or fifteen for Five Dollars.

Give All Chance to Hear

The sides of the tent will be raised to their limit, to effect perfect comfort during the afternoon, and also that the hundreds who are unable to get seats might hear the speakers. No charge of any description will be made.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS IN A NUTSHELL

"How can we make reservations?"

"By putting in your application after buying your tickets, and you will be notified on the completion of the theater by the Property Manager when to call for your reserved seat tickets!"

"Where is the money placed until the initial amount for the financing of the theater is assured?"

"In escrow!"

"Am I taking any chances at all in buying the tickets?"

"Absolutely one. If a miracle should happen and the theater is not built your money will be returned to the last cent!"

"Do the ordinary tickets admit us to the first night show?"

"They do providing you are early enough in making your reservations."

BANKERS, BRICKLAYERS, BUTCHERS CROWD MURPHY SHOWS

In walking up the aisle the other night, Mr. Brown, of J. B. Brown and company was given the hello from three of his acquaintances. The first to greet him was his finish carpenter foreman who resides at Rockdale, which is at the east limits of Eagle Rock. He met one of his associated contractors, a brick mason who is well known in Glendale as an expert in his line. He saw the smiling face of his meat market proprietor and shook hands with a banker whom almost everyknows.

Mr. Brown says the inspiration was refreshing. It seems everybody and every line is represented in the crowd.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, SEPT. 20, 1924

COMMISSION INSPECTS ROADS

Highway In Big Bear Region Is Viewed by Group of State Officials

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Although lacking an appropriation to make an investigation, the highway committee of nine, appointed by Governor Friend W. Richardson on recommendation of the last Legislature has begun functioning, and recently the members visited Southern California.

Highway Commissioner N. T. Edwards of this city returned the first of the week from Big Bear Lake, where the committee, headed by State Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland had camped Saturday night at Pinecrest after inspecting the road into Big Bear Valley, which is among those for which improvements will be asked of the coming Leigsiature.

Engineers On Tour

State officials, including Louis Everding and Engineer R. M. Morton of the highway commission, Engineer E. E. East of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and W. F. Mixon, secretary of the commission, were included in the party which drove through northern Los Angeles county from Palmdale to Cajon in San Bernardino county.

According to Commissioner Edwards they enjoyed the hospitality Friday night of Supervisors Bean and Wright's summer homes near the new Los Angeles county park on the other side of the mountains, thirty-five miles east of Palmdale. Here they found fifty county prisoners improving the highway skirting the desert in the beautifully wooded hills.

Roads Are Improved

For twelve miles out of Palmdale the road is paved, seven miles is graveled and sixteen more miles is good dirt road through virgin country and over many stiff grades through picturesque canyons. The county is asking that the state take over the maintenance of this stretch of highway and it is expected that with further improvement it would be one of the most popular week-end trips in the southland.

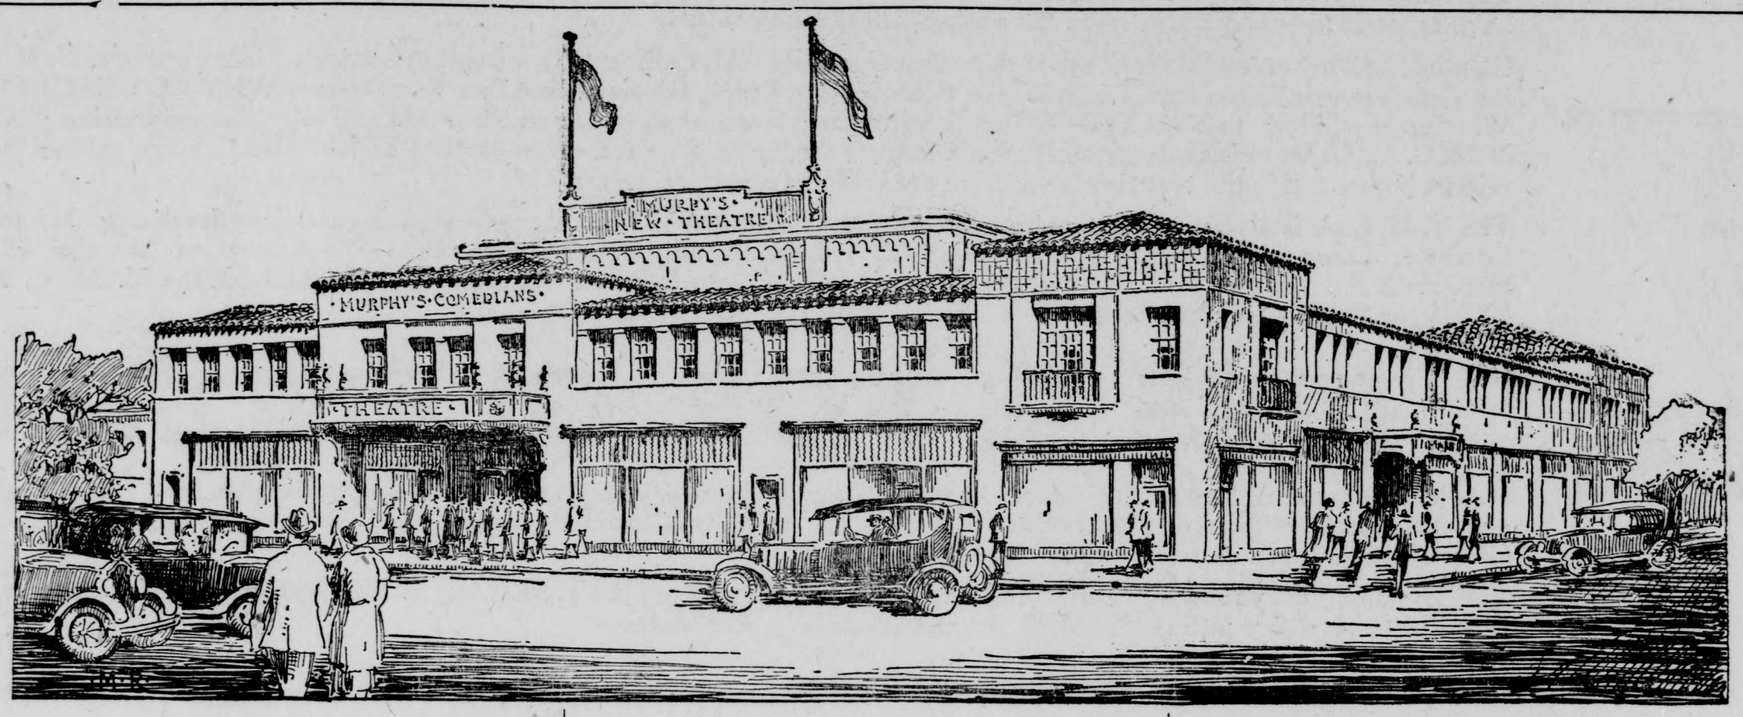
Mr. Edwards states that the county has done a great deal of work in the new park, erecting fireplaces, developing natural spring water and clearing the terrain. The fact that practically all supervisors have selected homesites nearby commends it as an ideal retreat in the opinion of the commission.

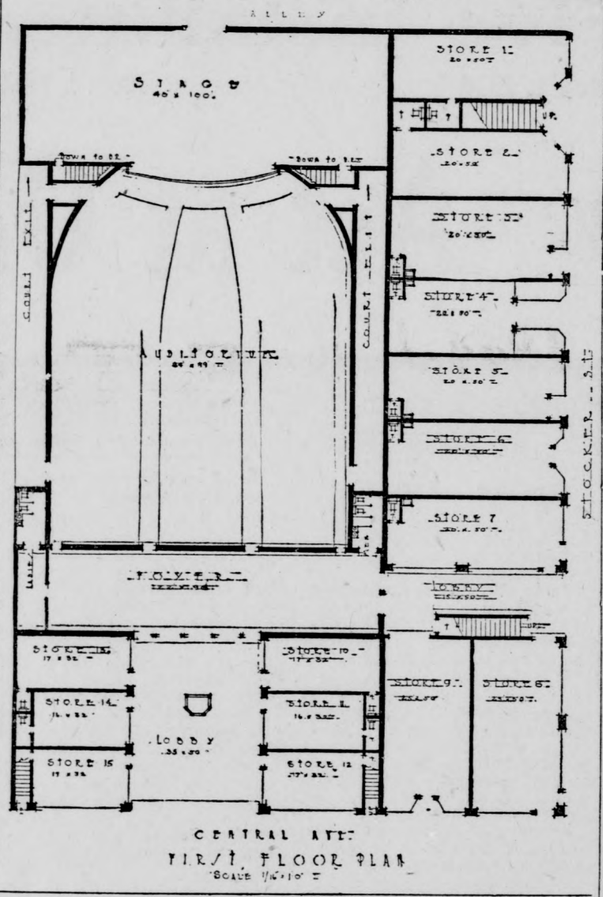
HELP IN CLEAN-UP

Real estate boards all over the country are enlisting actively in the campaign now being carried on by the National Association of Real Estate Board through its industrial property division to clean up the "back yard" of the city, the sections of its industrial plants which makes the principal part of the town visible to the casual passer-through on the railroad right-of-way.

Plans Complete For Murphy's Comedians' Theatre

Here is the architect's conception of what Murphy's Theatre will look like when erected at the corner of Stocker street and Central avenue. It will be a two story building. Below are shown the floor plans. The new theatre will be of fire-proof Class A construction. There will not be a balcony in the theatre, for the owners desire the audience all on one floor. The furnishings will be of the most modern type, it is announced.





FIRST FLOOR PLAN

Strictly Modern Structure To Be Erected At Stocker and Central to Care For Popular Theatrical Attractions

A semi-Spanish type of architecture has been selected for the imposing theatre to be erected at the northeast corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, as the permanent home of Murphy's Comedians, now operating a tent theatre at that location, under the name of Mahurin's Players, announces J. B. Brown of J. B. Brown & Co., exclusive selling agents and property managers of this popular stock company.

All the twelve or more stores will be strictly modern with large plate-glass windows and varied entrances, it being Mr. Brown's idea to give the building an unconventional and yet dignified appearance. Entering from both Stocker and Central will be two arcades, the stores along which will have glass fronts the full length of the arcade, unless the lessors of the stores decide on somewhat different design.

The second floor will contain a number of offices and twenty-two single and double apartments, they to have most modern conveniences and to be finished in the most up-to-date manner including tile baths and sinks, built-in ice boxes and considerable kitchen equipment. Decorations in the stores and apartments will not be extreme but will be in keeping with the formal dignity of the building. As Mr. Brown states, he does not believe extreme lines and jazz decorations are becoming to a building of this type, although they may show up to good advantage in residence details.

Class 'A' Theatre

The theatre will be of fireproof, Class A construction, and to conform strictly to the state laws as to safety and sanitation. The ceilings are to be carried by a full span steel truss, which will give the ceilings an elliptical form. It is the desire of Mr. Menard, and Mr. Murphy to have the audience entirely on one floor, thus eliminating the balcony and insuring perfect acoustic properties. It is Mr. Menard's intention to arrange, if possible, a tent effect of the entire ceiling, as he has found through years of experience that no better acoustic arrangements can be had than found by having a draped ceiling. A very commodious stage, prop and dressing rooms will give the theatre management a splendid place to produce their inimitable stage settings. Provisions will be made for scenic artists' scaffolds and equipment, which will make it possible for all scenery and props to be produced behind the proscenium arch.

The furnishings will be of modern type, and chairs being large and comfortable and placed on a gradually inclined floor. A seating capacity of 1500 or more is planned. A modern ventilating system and heating equipment will provide comfort the year 'round for the patrons.

LAW COURSE STARTS

The course in real estate law at the University of California, Southern Branch, will open on September 24, according to information given out at the headquarters of the California Real Estate association. At the same time comes the announcement that a new course of interest to carpenters and builders of homes is to be given by the university. Builders, carpenters, contractors, machinists, electricians and others who find it necessary to use blue prints in their work will be interested in knowing that the new course in blue print reading will open on September 16.—Charles Hugh Paxton, associate in mechanic arts, University of California, Southern Branch, will be the instructor. Principles of drawing, etc., are the subjects covered by the course.

FINAL BOARD MEETING

The last meeting of the 1924 board of directors of the California Real Estate association has been called by President Henry P. Barbour for Tuesday night, October 7, at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena. At that time the final report of the fiscal year will be made. At the annual convention new officers of the association will be elected and there will be another board of directors named. The final report will show that during President Barbour's administration the California Real Estate association attained its greatest membership to date, and that it is the largest state realty organization in the United States.

CONVENTION FUNDS ARE RAISED

Pasadena Board Committees Prepare Program for Annual Meeting

The entertainment and convention fund which the members of the Pasadena Realty board undertook to raise for the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, to be held October 8, 9, 10 and 11, has been oversubscribed, according to Joseph H. Dorn and Mac L. Blankenhorn, who comprise the finance and budget committee.

The keys of the city will literally be handed to the delegates, and special parking facilities and other accommodations are being arranged for the forthcoming gathering.

Seventeen committees are working for the success of the convention, which, it is hoped, will rival the national convention in attendance.

Sports Features

The baseball championship and the golf championship of the realtors of California will be determined following the convention.

The Hotel Huntington will be opened for the four days of the convention. H. L. Gianetti and President R. A. Swink of the Pasadena Realty board compose the hotel committee.

Mrs. C. Victor Sturdevant, Jr., chairman of the decorating committee, has issued an appeal to all residents of Pasadena to plant blue and gold flowers, as the general color scheme of the convention will be the official colors of the California Real Estate association.

The women's committee is making arrangements for the most comprehensive and complete entertainment of the women guests.

Boards Are Coming

Visitors to the convention will see the largest gathering of real estate brokers ever witnessed in California. The majority of the boards will come in motor caravans with machines gaily decorated for the convention, bearing the name and colors of the visiting boards.

Two caravans will come from the north, one down the coast route and one via the San Joaquin valley.

WILL SHOW GAIN IN CROP RETURN

Fruit and Vegetables Bring $15,126,850 In Excess Of Figures for 1923

E. E. Kaufman, agricultural statistician for the federal government, who will speak at the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association at Pasadena next month, has just completed a survey of the state showing that this year's fruit and vegetable crop of this state will exceed last year's by $15,126,850. At the farm lands division at the state convention in Pasadena, Mr. Kaufman will discuss diversified farming which has brought about this great increase in California products.

Fruit, field and vegetable crops this year in California total $432,929,850. The fruit crop, according to the government expert will yield $176,345,000, almost $18,000,000 more than was received last year. The field crops show a loss over last year of close to $7,000,000, the yield this season being $191,684,850; but the vegetable crops show a gain of $4,500,000 over last year. The yield from vegetables this year will be $64,900,000.

WILL BUILD HOME TO COST $16,000

Homecrafts Corporation to Erect Residence In Rossmoyne Tract

The Homecrafts Corporation, 416-18 East Colorado boulevard, has just sold, from plans and specifications, a fine type residence, to be erected on Lot 8, Block 21, of the Rossmoyne tract, at an estimated cost of $16,000.

The house will be of English country style, of seven rooms stucco, with typical steep pitched English roof, shingled in thatched effect, a brick terrace at front surrounding the tower entrance to the house. The bath room is to contain built-in showers and fancy selection fixtures, tiled floor and wainscot, and the usual weak points of modern homes are to be overcome in providing screen porch and breakfast room large enough for utility.

The purchaser is a Los Angeles business man, favorably familiar with local conditions, and the capacity and ability of the Homecrafts Corporation. The company has acquired fifty select lots in Rossmoyne, and its building program calls for construction of high-class houses as rapidly as the organization can consistently function. Selection from plans before actual construction is started is now much in vogue.

WAKE UP GLENDALE!

Only 593 Persons Have Been Reported As Subscribers to the Y. M. C. A. Building Fund.

The Campaign for $275,000 Closes Next Tuesday Night—$174,174 more needed to hold the $100,826 which less than 600 people have subscribed—conditional upon the entire $275,00 being raised.

Glendale will get an awful black eye if this campaign fails. All California is watching Glendale. They put over Y. M. C. A. Building Campaigns in Santa Ana, Long Beach, Pomona, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino—WHY NOT IN GLENDALE? What good will it do to boast about Glendale being the fastest growing city in the world and fall down on raising $275,000 for a Y. M. C. A. Other cities will certainly give Glendale the laugh if we fall down on the "Y" job. Glendale can't afford to fail. Never mind whether this is the best time or not, we are in it and must put it over.

The Y. M. C. A. is always a community project—the success of a Y. M. C. A. campaign is good city advertising. It boosts property interests. Come on Realtors, get back of the "Y". It helps the economic interests of the city—come on Chamber of Commerce men, push the "Y" project. The "Y" helps moral and religious interests—Church Folks should back the Y. M. C. A.—Yes the "Y" is for 'You'—Are you for the "Y"? SAY IT WITH DOLLARS.

THIS IS FOR GLENDALE

It is just as practical and just as essential as street cars, telephone, water works, sewerage, sidewalks, paved streets, electric lights and other public utilities. At least other cities think so. Come on Glendale—do this job right—a growing, prosperous city like Glendale must invest some money in character building.

The boys and girls, young men and young women reap the benefits of the Y. M. C. A. Is $275,000 too much for resourceful Glendale to spend to give its youth the Y. M. C. A. opportunities? Remember

Chairman M'Dill In Appeal For Citizens to Make Their Subscriptions

Scouts in Glendale have been called into service for the Y. M. C. A. building effort and will distribute door-knob tags in the residence sections of the city. The tags make appeal for fathers and mothers to help get the Y. M. C. A. fund of $275,000 subscribed by Tuesday night. The boys who place these tags will call for them before Tuesday evening in order that the results may be tabulated and included in the final report. H. R. Cheesman, Boy Scout executive for Glendale, has volunteered to direct the work of the Scouts in connection with the campaign. The swimming pool, gymnasium and other features of the "Y" building will be available to the members of the Boy Scouts in preparation to pass their respective tests.

For Girls and Boys

Another plan for the co-operation of boys and girls is the "dollar bricks" subscription, so that every boy and girl in Glendale may have a share in the new "Y" building by owning a brick on a subscription of one dollar. In other cities the boys and girls have made much of this plan, some signing for five and ten bricks. These signatures must be approved by the father or mother of the boy or girl who signs. Secretary Rex Kelley is directing the brick plan.

C. A. Gummere of the University of Southern California addressed last night's dinner meeting of workers and stirred the men to a marked demonstration at the close of his remarks. He said that the Glendale Y. M. C. A. campaign needed some one to do something spectacular just at this time to give it the needed momentum to swing it to victory. He deprecated the small reports of some of the teams and urged that each team unit report an average of forty subscriptions each remaining day of the campaign. "Are the men of Glendale too busy making dollars," said Gummere, "to help raise this fund to help and save the boys? If they are, they will have to pay later for such neglect now. It is cheaper and better to form than to reform. Glendale is no bigger than its average citizen and in the development of manhood through Y. M. C. A. work we have one of the biggest ideas, worthy of greatest support."

The women who served the dinner represented the First Baptist church. They were: Mrs. Roy Kent, Mrs. Francis Morrow, Mrs. Owen, Mrs. Maude Von Wormer, Mrs. Preston Hatch, Mrs. Wonacott, Mrs. Nettie Carver, Mrs. Detwiler, Mrs. Wayland Wood, Mrs. Gene Lore, Mrs. Moffatt, Mrs. Akers, Mrs. Nellie Hill, Miss May Wright, Mrs. Meyers, Miss Beatrice Doxee, Miss Lena Miller, Mrs. E. Plan Big Welcome

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20.—When the American round-the-world flyers arrive at Rockwell field here late Monday afternoon they will be welcomed by the most vociferous reception accorded them anywhere along their 25,000-mile route, if outlined plans of the committee in charge here go through without a hitch.

Will Call for Bids To Construct Sewers

A resolution ordering the city clerk to advertise for bids on the $1,600,000 sewer Glendale is to build, connecting with the Los Angeles outfall sewer, will be adopted at the meeting of the City Council next Thursday morning, September 25, states Virgil B. Stone, city manager. This action follows fast on the heels of receipt by the city of $680,657.44 from the Bank of Italy, Los Angeles, purchasers of the first block of 652 of the $1000 bonds issued for the purpose of financing this project.

Alternate bids will be called for on several types of construction, Mr. Stone states, the engineering firm of Burns, McDonnell & Smith having advised the city to this effect.

News Advertising Is Bringing Inquiries

"The full page advertisement that we ran in The Glendale Evening News on Thursday about Frazier Mountain Park is bringing in an immense number of inquiries about the property," reports W. L. Baird, president, and Harry G. MacBain, secretary, will go up to the tract later in the day.

The directors have approved the first unit and are enlarging it from the plans originally laid out by the surveyors, and the company's geologist is now going over the tract to decide where the fish hatcheries and the lakes are to be placed. The fish expert will also be at Frazier Mountain Park tomorrow for a conference with the directors regarding the plans for stocking the lakes with fish.

The president told Wilbur that the circumnavigation of the globe by army flyers had convinced him of the growing importance of aircraft in the national defense, and expressed the wish that the navy would develop plans for putting greater stress on the building and maintenance of air fleets than upon battleships, which he points out will have to be scrapped in the end.

Secretary Wilbur said after the conference that he still regarded battleships as the backbone of the navy but thought that airplane and airships should be built and used as a valuable adjunct to the operations of the man of war.

London Fast Becoming 'City of Grown Folks'

LONDON, Sept. 20.—London is slowly becoming a city of grown-up people, with fewer children every year.

This fact is revealed in statistics issued recently, which show that the birth rate is decreasing 14 per cent annually, while the number of persons reaching man's estate is correspondingly higher.

Fewer marriages, due to the lack of living accommodation, is declared to be responsible for the falling birth rate, while better sanitary and living conditions are responsible for more people surviving epidemics and illnesses in their younger years and living longer.

IN BUSINESS WORLD

By J. C. BOYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Weekends and weak managements are the two greatest dangers faced by American industry today. That is the opinion of one of the foremost businessmen of the United States who has just returned from an investigation looking toward American financing of European rehabilitation.

Foreign competition and the high scale of wages now obtaining in the United States are not dangers to be feared, he maintains, and his opinion carries weight in banking and business circles. Inefficient and careless management he regards as responsible for nine-tenths of the difficulties now being encountered by various lines of industry.

"The trouble with this country," he said, "is that there are too many golf courses here. We are beginning to fall into the pit into which British industry slumped some time back. We are commencing to look forward too much to the week-end. Not only that, but business men and executives are starting it on Friday and finishing it on Tuesday.

"When I came home, I found my sons hurrying to the golf links on practically every week day afternoon. The excuse was that they had to take customers there and that by this means could close business which could be had in no other way. The customers had a similar excuse to offer, maintaining they could do business more advantageously on the links than in the office. Each deluded himself into a belief in what he wanted to believe. The same error used to obtain in the boom mining camps in the West where it was the theory that it was impossible to buy or sell a mine or conclude a business deal elsewhere than in a saloon.

"It is a strange thing that while American manufacturers cry continually that they want Europe rehabilitated, they seem thoroughly unwilling to see Europe's debts to the United States cancelled or to see the countries of Europe in a sufficiently prosperous condition to pay them. They harp on the fear of European competition. Anytime a line of industry with the advantages offered by this country 'fears' European competition, it ought to go out of business. What the business executives really fear is that they will lose not their markets but their Saturday afternoons off.

"The clear-headed competent American business executive is not afraid of our high scale of wages. He wants it kept high, realizing that if he can utilize this highly paid labor to its maximum efficiency, through proper management and improved machinery, he need fear no low paid labor competition.

"I motored one day 211 miles through France. I did not see a single golf course, but I did see a lot of men and women working in the fields, not until the whistle blew, but until long after the moon had risen. However, if the trend is continued, establishment of continuous golf courses across the country may tend to solve curtailment of over production of agricultural products."

Of course, this investigator, whose name is not mentioned, simply because the character of his mission to Europe makes it inadvisible at present, spoke figuratively with regard to golf, but his statement assumes decided importance in view of the frequent charges of labor leaders that the move to reduce wages in New England is the forerunner of a determination on the part of manufacturers to force a lower wage scale immediately after election, no matter what party is successful.

As to efficiency of management, the statement finds a ready seconder in Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who declares that labor is entitled not only to a living wage according to American standards, but also to the utmost efficiency of management, machinery and equipment, and that such efficiency would insure equal improvement of the condition of employer and employe.

Portable Booth to Aid Atlanta Voters

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 20.—Although young in the political world, women voters of Atlanta have evloved a scheme for registration that men have overlooked for generations.

There will be no campaign prior to the next city primary for women voters to come to the registration booths. The registration booths will be taken to them.

The new idea was worked out by the League of Women Voters in order to swell the list of registered voters. A portable booth will be carried to every home in Atlanta and the housewife will be able to register with as little trouble as she would buy vegetables from a street peddler.

Several thousand additional voters are expected to be reached in this manner, it was said.

White Plague Still Hawaii's Chief Peril

HONOLULU, Sept. 20.—Tuberculosis still holds the lead in the number of communicable diseases reported to the territorial board of health, it is shown in the last report issued by Miss Mae Weir, secretary of the board.

For June there were 113 cases of the disease reported out of a total of 289 instances of communicable ailments. Sixty-eight of these cases were found on Oahu; twenty-nine on Maui; fourteen on Hawaii, and eleven on Kauai.

First elephant exhibited in this country was shown at Amesburyport, Mass., in 1797.

Diet And Health

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Are Physicians a Sickly Lot?

In a certain pseudo-scientific magazine there was an article recently which asserted that physicians are a sickly lot. It gave the impression that if physicians do not know how to keep themselves well, how can they be expected to keep others well and to cure them?

My first impression on reading that was that it might be possible, because the average physician's life in his performance of his duty, is enough to put him under par. He is often overworked, half the time does't get enough sleep, has irregular times for eating and has little time for systematic exercise and recreation.

However, we have some data now to show that his idea that the physicians are a sickly lot, is wrong. In Kings County Medical Society, Brooklyn, 91 of the members received a personal health examination, as part of the county educational program, and comparisons with other series of examinations by the U. S. Public Health Service and by Insurance companies, indicate that these physicians, at least, rate better in health than other corresponding age groups. So that statement the magazine made "that physicians are a sickly lot" will have to be challenged. We do practice what we preach.

Many Miseries

Mrs. S.—You are 50 pounds overweight; your fingers crack under the nails and they are painful; you lose control of your middle finger when you write; and your neck is an awful size.

Reduce! That is the answer of most of your troubles. Send for our instructions on reducing. Don't forget to enclose a large sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in stamps with your request.

While you are waiting for this, go to the bookstore or the library and get a book on reducing. If you cannot go to the bookstore or the library immediately, begin to increase your exercises gradually and go on a liquid or semi-liquid diet for three days. Have four or five glasses of buttermilk or skim milk plus eight or 12 dates during the day. Divide this amount into as many meals as you like. This will amount to from 520 to 700 C. If you don't like milk or buttermilk, take four or five small glasses of orange juice or other fruit juices, instead. You will lose from five to ten pounds and that will give you what we call a glorious start.

Keep your nails well manicured to keep them free from hangnails. Push back the cuticle at the roots every day. Wear rubber gloves if you have to have your hands in water much. Wrap them at night in some healing ointment like boracic acid or zinc ointment. Writer's cramp I'll take up some other time. REDUCE!

Callous Feet

S. H.—The callousness on the balls of the feet are due to the falling of the anterior arch. You say you wear arch supporters, proper shoes and do the exercises I have advised. Still they are painful! Hard luck, isn't it.

Ah! I see you are about 15 pounds overweight. Well, there's one thing more you can do. You can reduce the excess and perhaps that will help. And you must remember that it takes a long time for the exercises to strengthen the muscles materially.

After the callouses are soaked and pared, strap them with adhesive; that will give some relief. The corn remedy can be used also. Here it is.

Salicylic acid, 1 dram (about a level teaspoonful).

Flexible collodion, 1 ounce.

Ten grains cannabis indica may then be added to relieve pain.

Soak the feet before applying and then apply the solution night and morning for three to six days; then soak in hot water softened with soda, a teaspoonful to the quart, and the corn can usually be gently pulled off.

Cars and Floats to Compete for Prizes

Prizes for the best decorated cars and floats entered in the parade that is to be held Monday, September 29, to boost the bond issues that are to be voted on at the special election September 30, are being offered by the parade committee, headed by G. O. Russell, and prizes will also be awarded to those entrants who display the most convincing and striking slogans on the banners on their cars. The parade, Mr. Russell states, will form at the upper end of Brand boulevard and will follow a course yet to be announced.

Beginning next week the chairmen of the various committees will furnish data regarding the particular bond issues that were investigated and recommended by them before the decision was reached to submit them to the voters, and the literature that is being mailed out by the committee now will reach the voters just about the same time as the sample ballots which will be sent out by City Clerk A. J. Van Wie.

Afternoon Wedding

Miss Marion Wohlert Raasted, of 1750 El Rito road, Verdugo Woodlands, became the bride of Alex T. Lush at a pretty church wedding, which took place at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park this afternoon, Saturday, September 20, 1924, at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. CHAPTER LVII.

"Konrad!" Dora breathed, drawing back. Hilary looked at her bravely and simply. Dora's face had grown a little pale, the pupils of her eyes dilated, her lids narrowed, and about her mouth came the faintly hostile, faintly scornful lines that Hilary already knew. "Konrad!" she repeated, incredulously, her breath coming fast. "Why, but, Hilary—but, Hilary," she groped. "You told me—you told me—you laughed at the idea that there could be anything between you two!"

"I was wrong!" Hilary said, simply. "I—I know better now."

"Hilary, you don't—you're not in love!" Dora said, eagerly, after a stupefied silence in which her brown eyes had never moved from Hilary's face. "You—but I can't imagine it! I can't somehow—and he doesn't—I know he isn't in love with you!" stammered Dora, uneasily, with long pauses.

"No," Hilary admitted, "I don't think he is!"

"Then you just—then you just—but honestly, it won't last, Sis," Dora assured her, relieved, but still anxious. "I know what you mean, I've felt that sort of thing hundreds of times! I mean, just a sort of case—that's all that is. You couldn't be so calm if it were the real thing!"

"I'm not calm," Hilary confessed, quietly. "No, I don't want to deceive you, Butterfly. I love him, I'd die to give him happiness, to feel sure that his career would go on from one success to another! I'd live with him in a three-room cabin in Poland if he wanted me to—I'd wash for him, and cook for him, and bear him children—I'd never want to see anybody or any place, else! If his art failed him, I think I'd be glad. I think I'd like to prove to him how little it mattered. And if for some reason he wasn't legally free to marry me, I don't think that would make much difference, either——"

She buried her hot cheeks in her hands; Butterfly, distressed, locked her arms affectionately about her, and kissed the bowed braids.

"So that's that!" Hilary said, sitting up, and with a long breath.

"But, Sis, I don't see how his work could fail him," Dora protested, puzzled." He makes a perfect fortune every year, and he's tied up for five years on that contract. It seems to me——"

"That was a mere figure of speech, Butterfly!" Hilary assured her, smiling in her sorrowful fashion into the brown eyes so near.

"As for children," Butterfly continued, a little nettled, "it seems to me that if there's one thing a professional man and woman don't want it's children! If a man doesn't love his wife, he certainly isn't going to love her any more because there's a lot of babies, with measles and croup and all that, in the house!"

"It's a great interest, a great joy in common, Butterfly," Hilary submitted, mildly. Dora was not listening.

"I'm glad you told me this, Sis," she presently said, affectionately. "I never suspected it. I knew of course that Konrad and you were getting to be very friendly—but there's a difference, you know. I didn't know that he loves me," Dora added, "but I do know that if it was any other woman, even you, dearest, I couldn't stand it. I should kill myself! I'm—I'm my mother's daughter," she confessed, with a half-smile, "I'm not like other people. This—this is the one real thing that has come into my life. Sis, you'll help me manage it, won't you? You love us both. You'll always come first, always, with us both. You've been my mother, my teacher, and inspiration all my life—help me now! You can see what it means to me——"

"Butterfly," Hilary began, slowly, in a long silence, when the sudden tears upon Dora's lashes were dry, and they had kissed other. "If he loved me, I don't think anything in this world would keep me from him. But I don't think he does. I think he loves you, dear."

"Did he say so?" Dora's exquisite rainbow face hurt Hilary strangely.

"Almost that," she admitted, watching closely.

"Sis!" Dora cried, with a laugh and a sob.

"But, Butterfly, if you believe me, if you trust me," Hilary said, trembling, "you won't do this—now. Go with Craig to Mount Holly; you were happy there, as a little girl, you are the great lady of the town now, you can have anything you please! Try again, my darling! Give it a year's trial. No marriage could survive the atmosphere you're in now. But Craig deserves——"

"Craig is no more anxious for this ridiculous farce to go on than I am!" Butterfly said, scornfully and impatiently.

"Dearest, you are young. You'll be glad all your life if you take time, and prayer, and thought to this now."

"But what for?" fretted Butterfly. "I don't see what for. Would you wait, if Konrad loved you?"

"No, but then I am free, Dora."

"Exactly! And I mean to be free."

"And I have never loved any other man, dear."

"No, and neither have I! I was a child—I had no more idea what love was than my slipper! Ah, Sis," pleaded Butterfly, embracing her, her lovely face close to Hilary's own, and her lips close to Hilary's ear, "help me with this as you always do! Tell Craig and his mother, and any one else who criticizes me, just how it was—that I couldn't do anything else! It's my chance; it means my whole life! Come to California with me, or Nevada, or wherever I go—Hilary, if you do, I will never ask you anything again in my whole life! Please! And let me be Konrad's secretary for a few days, just so that I may have a talk with him before I go to Craig! I can't force such things, I can't plunge into a vital conversation like that anywhere—and at the first second! Nobody could. Help to give me an opportunity. Sis, if it were some man who loved you, I would help you—truly, truly I would!"

"Then why not help me now?" Hilary asked, her blue eyes dark with bewilderment and pain.

"I would, if he loved you," Dora answered, promptly.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

All Glendalians who want to enjoy "A Mad Honeymoon," will have to flock to the tent theater of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians) tonight, announces Manager J. A. Menard, as starting Sunday night "Saintly Hypocrites" goes on for a week. The tent is located at the corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

When it played in New York, as a William A. Brady production, "A Mad Honeymoon" made a big hit. It is full of laughs and has as its thrill motif a coat containing $30,000 in bonds, that disappears and reappears with amazing complications.

"A Mad Honeymoon" will be relished by young and old, married and unmarried, all classes and kinds of people who still have left the saving grace of humor. "And," says Manager Menard of Mahurin's Players," this play will help a lot of folks to find their long lost funnybone!"

THE GATEWAY

Gloria Swanson in the brief period it takes to make two pictures has bridged the gap between the bourgeoisie and royalty.

In "Manhandled," shown at Grauman's Theater but a short time ago, Gloria was plain Tessie McGuire. Now she is Her Royal Highness, Princess Marie Louise Tavatrina Sagoia, (we'll call her the Princess for short) only daughter of the ruling Archduke of Vlatavia, for her new Paramount picture, "Her Love Story," which will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday 21, 22, 23 at the Gateway Theater.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, America's foremost woman novelist, wrote the story, a Balkan tale of kings and nobles who are real human beings. Ian Keith, a welcome newcomer to the screen has the leading male role in support of the star. George Fawcett and Mario Majeroni head the strong cast, which includes, among others, Echilin Gayer, Sidney Herbert, Donald Hall, Baroness de Hedemann, Jane Auburn, little Berty Wales and Gen. Lodijensky.

"Her Love Story" is a pleasing romance in a colorful setting, with Gloria wearing more beautiful gowns than ever before. Gowns and Gloria are spoken of in the same breath, when the women folk see the delightful creations in this picture!

If you thought Gloria was good in "Manhandled," you surely can't afford to miss her in "Her Love Story." Everyone who has seen it declares it's away out and beyond any of her other productions. And to say a picture is better than "Manhandled" is saying something.

THE GLENDALE

"A Man's Mate," concludes today at the Glendale Theater. Sunday to Thursday inclusive, the feature is Jackie Coogan in "Little Robinson Crusoe."

THE T. D. & L.

"The City That Never Sleeps," concludes today at the T. D. & L. Theater. Sunday to Tuesday inclusive, the feature is Norma Talmadge in "Secrets."

UNCLE WIGGILY OPENS A WINDOW

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Even though the summer vacation was over, and all the animal boys and girls were back from the seashore and mountains, and in the Hollow Stump school, it was a very hot season in Woodland.

"Whew!" whistled Uncle Wiggily as he felt the hot air when he stepped out of his bungalow. "I think I shall go and sit in the ice cave of Mr. Whitewash, the Polar Bear. Why don't you come with me, Nurse Jane?" he politely asked, seeing his muskrat lady housekeeper sitting near a window and fanning herself with an apron.

"Oh, I'm all right here," she answered. "I can keep cool if I think of lemonade and ice cream cones."

"You would be much cooler if you would open that window near you and let the breeze blow in," said Mr. Longears. "Why don't you open that window, Nurse Jane? Or, better still, let me open it for you," and Uncle Wiggily hopped toward it, for he was a very polite rabbit gentleman.

"You can't open that window," sighed Nurse Jane. "If it could be done I would have done it long ago."

Why can't that window be opened?" asked the bunny, just like a traffic policeman asking why you went so fast in your auto.

"Because it's stuck fast—the window won't open," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I can open any window in my bungalow. Watch me!"

The rabbit put both paws on the window frame and pushed up with all his might. Then he pushed a little more. Then he grunted. Still the window remained shut, and no cool breeze could come in.

"See—I told you," spoke Nurse Jane softly.

"I haven't half tried yet!" boasted Uncle Wiggily. "Wait until I take off my coat." So he took off his coat and again pushed on the window to raise it. Then he grunted. Still the window was closed.

Then along came Mr. Twistytail, the gentleman pig. He saw Uncle Wiggily straining at the window to raise it, and the pig said:

"I am fat, but not very strong, else I'd come in and help you raise that window, Uncle Wiggily. But I can do something to help."

"What?" asked the rabbit.

"I can stand out here and grunt for you," said the pig. "That will let you save all your breath for raising the window. Come on, push again, and I'll do the grunting this time."

But even with Mr. Twistytail to grunt, the window was still stuck shut and Mr. Longears was thinking of getting a screw driver and a hammer, when, all of a sudden, along came the Bob Cat with his silly little tail.

"I've come to get you!" snarled the Bob Cat to the rabbit. "I'm going to take you out to my den, where my little Bob Cats can see you. Come along!"

"Please wait until I open this window so Nurse Jane will feel a cool breeze," begged the rabbit.

"No, indeed!" snarled the Bob Cat. "You only want to fuss around making believe open the window until you get a chance to run away. I know you! I'll open that window myself, and then I'll take you away!"

The Bob Cat pushed so hard on the window that his paw slipped. Right through the glass went his paw, breaking the window pane.

"Oh, now you've done it! Now you've broken my window!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Police Dog! Police Dog! Police Dog! Come and arrest the Bob Cat for breaking my window!" shouted the rabbit.

And the Bob Cat was so frightened at what he had done and so afraid the Police Dog would get him, that away he ran back to the woods.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny. "Anyhow, now the window is open and Nurse Jane will keep cool!" And so she did, while Mr. Longears went to the ice cave of the Polar Bear. Now if the foot of the stairs doesn't take off its shoe and go paddling in the bath tub, I shall next tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the cold cake.

SENATORS IN LEAD BY SINGLE GAME

Giants Increase Number of Battles Over Brooklyn By Beating Chicago

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Senators had a one-game lead over the Yankees today as a result of swamping the Browns, while the Tigers stopped the champions' spurt. Washington and New York have nine more games to play, while Detroit, with only a bare mathematical chance to win, has only seven.

The Giants increased their lead over Brooklyn to a game and a half by beating Chicago as the Dodgers lost to Pittsburgh. The Pirates, one game behind Brooklyn and two games and a half behind the Giants, have a chance to pick up a game on the league leaders, because they still have ten games to play while New York plays eight more games. Only seven more games remain on Brooklyn's schedule.

Buried Under Runs

Scoring nine runs in the first, the Senators swamped the Browns 15 to 9 and won a clear title to first place, as the Yanks ran out of gas in Detroit. McNeely, Rice and Goslin got four hits each as Washington pounded six St. Louis pitchers.

The Tigers made a last desperate bid for the pennant by nosing out the champions, 6 to 5. A wild throw by Dugan was costly. Pascha, Yankee recruit from Atlanta, got three hits in as many times at bat.

The Giants slaughtered the Cubs, 10 to 4, and increased their lead over the Dodgers to a game and a half. Heinie Groh was carried from the field with an injured leg.

Close to Dodgers

Dr. Emil Yde, noted Pittsburgh specialist, handed Brooklyn a bitter pill in the form of a 4-to-2 licking, the Pirates climbing to within a game of the Dodgers.

Clyde Day, a rookie, started his big league career with the Cards auspiciously by trimming the Braves, 4 to 1.

The Reds made merry at the expense of the hapless Phils, slugging their way to a 9-to-5 victory and climbing to fourth place.

The Red Sox put the Indians to sleep in the twelfth, 5 to 3, and edged half a game closer to the promised land of seventh place.

FOR GAME'S SAKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—When it comes to a question of home games, no football eleven in the conference is so favorably situated as the University of Chicago, which will play seven of its eight games at home this season.

There are many unenviable features associated with the conduct of intercollegiate athletics in a large center of urban population. But the problem of gate receipts does not enter.

So attractive, in fact, is the prospect of large city crowds that an athletic association of an institution located in a metropolis can offer an inducement sufficiently sizeable to pay the season's expenses of a visiting eleven in one afternoon.

So only the big fellows—and not always these—feel they can afford to pass up the standing room only that Chicago is certain to provide.

Only Ohio State will be met on a foreign field by the Midway pigskin chasers this season. The Buckeye Stadium is in Columbus and is as lucrative a spot for visiting teams in late October and November as any amphitheater in the country.

With Missouri, Brown, Indiana, Purdue, Illinois and Wisconsin visiting the Stagg arena, Chicago enthusiasts who are privileged to buy tickets have no reason to feel other than satisfied with the season's offerings.

While the University of Washington retains Tesreau and Wilson, two members of the hard-hitting backfield of 1923 and loses only a guard from the line, Western critics seem to feel that the easy schedule of the Huskies gives them a greater chance of attaining fame than does anything positive in the way of material, coaching and so forth.

All of Washington's games except the California affair, do not look at all difficult. Neither Stanford nor Southern California is met. The Bears tackle the Southerners the week before they play the Seattle eleven and are likely to present a battle-worn front to the big Northmen. The problem of Enoch Bagshaw, the alumni coach, is similar to that of last year—he has got to find a clever field general. He failed to solve it in 1923.

VIEW MURPHY'S BODY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Resting beneath a checkered flag of roses, the body of Jimmy Murphy, famous automobile racing driver, killed Monday in a race at Syracuse, N. Y., lay in state here today at Knights of Columbus hall. Hundreds of friends of the speed king viewed the body.

TAYLOR VS. RIVERS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., bantam, who has twice fought Champion Villa, has arrived here and will make his coast debut Tuesday night, meeting Georgie Rivers, Los Angeles youngster.

GRIDIRON JOTTINGS

STANFORD—In the process of pruning the Cardinals, Coaches Warner and Kerr today had selected four teams as a result of the first two days of scrimmage. The full squad of ninety is still working, however.

BERKELEY — Large searchlights have been placed on California field to enable practice of the Bruins to continue into the dusk of evening.

LOS ANGELES—University of Southern California squad registered first injury of the season today when Henry Lefebre reported a broken finger.

CLAREMONT—Pomona college football men heralded as coming champions of the Southern California conference, were scheduled today for their first stiff practice of the season.

EUGENE, Ore. — Coach Joe Maddock arrived back in Eugene today from Portland in plenty of time to put his squad through the stiffest practice of the pre-season training.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—With the alumni game but a week off, the Beaver varsity toiled long and hard today, under the driving energy of Coach Schissler and a corps of assistants.

MOSCOW—Coach Mathews has ruled secret practice at the University of Idaho and has taken means to prevent any curiosity seekers from watching the Vandals turning out.

PULLMAN—A tentative lineup has been chosen by Coach Exendine at Washington State college and the men have already been going through heavy scrimmage work.

TACOMA—The College of Puget Sound had one of the worst football turnouts of any university of the country. But 20 men are now turning out for positions.

SEATTLE—The battle for positions in the backfield has never been so keen here as it is now. There are nearly fifteen men who are all out for places in the backfield, most of them of about the same playing calibre.

FIGHT RESULTS

AT NEW YORK—Paul Berlenbach, Astoria, N. Y., knocked out Jack Reddick, Can., eight rounds, Billy Britton knocked out Charley Nashert, ten rounds.

AT DENVER—Teddy Garfin, Omaha, decisioned Frankie Darren, Salt Lake, three rounds.

AT OMAHA—Morrie Schalifer, Omaha, and Ted Moore, England, fought a ten-round referee's draw.

AT SAN FRANCISCO — Jack Silver, and Lefty Cooper fought a draw. Sailor Melker won from Red Uhlan when an injury to Uhlan's right eye stopped the fight in the third.

Local Phone Company Has Team In Contest

The Glendale telephone company is to enter a team tonight in the final first aid contest held in the university gymnasium, Exposition park, Los Angeles, to decide the winning team from the Southern California and Pacific departments of the telephone company. First aid contests have been held throughout these departments and by the process of elimination four teams from each department were chosen for the final contest tonight. The Glendale team includes J. R. Bonifield, captain; F. Stevens, George P. Dunigan, L. R. McMillan, M. L. Fulmer, H. Brummel.

White Sox to Offer New Lineup Sunday

Tomorrow, when the Glendale White Sox meet the Hollywood Merchants on the local grounds, the Glendale fans will see a whole new team take the field. Frank Kerwin, manager of the Pale Hose, has been busy the last week signing up a new outfit. The Glendale Sox has been falling off lately and Kerwin thinks a new line-up will put them back on their feet again. As yet it has not been decided who will pitch for either team.

Locals Beat Van Nuys 9-6 In Practice Game

The Glendale Dynamiters won a close practice game from the Van Nuys eleven yesterday on the Van Nuys field, 7-6. The locals were playing poorly and Coach Hayhurst sent in all the substitutes he had with him. Carl Denney, left end for the Dynamiters, made the Glendale touchdown, and "Bud" Elliot, quarterback, converted.

The seventh grade soccer schedule will open Monday noon at the Wilson Intermediate school. Interest among the boys has already reached a high pitch. In the A-7 classes the teams will be captained as follows: A-7 I, Jack Wilson; A-7 II, John Pagluiso; A-7 III, Donald Robson.

TIGERS SHUT OUT BAY CITY SQUAD

Pete Schneider's Long Drive Over Fence Helps to Beat San Francisco

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—A long drive by Pete Schneider over the left field fence in the first inning and three walks donated by Lefty Williams in the second gave the Vernon Tigers a 2-to-0 victory over San Francisco in yesterday's game at Washington park. The series now stands two all.

Christian hurled a five-hit game for the Tigers, and was given errorless support by his team mates throughout the contest. Lefty Williams settled down after the second frame, allowing the Bengals but four bingles, although the Tigers threatened in the fifth, when they planted a man on third and second, but McDowell failed to come across with the stick.

Williams was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth, when Bert Ellison tried to start a rally after Kilduff doubled, but the Tigers' brand of ball was too tight for the visitors.

Bill Essick, Vernon manager, was suspended until Sunday as a result of his wrangle with Umpire Guthrie in Thursday's game.

The Angels fell before the Oakland Acorns in the fourth game of the series yesterday, 6 to 3, giving the Oaks a 3-to-1 standing in the week's games. Charley Root, Angel twirler, faced Krause on the mound.

Salt Lake took a pair of games from the Portland Beavers yesterday, winning the opener 12 to 11 and the second contest 8 to 7.

The Seattle Indians gained ground in the pennant race yesterday by defeating Sacramento, 7 to 1. Vean Gregg was the winning pitcher.

SPORT WISDOM

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Few football coaches face a more critical period this fall than does Jock Sutherland, who has stepped into Glenn Warner's shoes at the University of Pittsburgh, and now has his squad working out at Windber, Pa.

Sutherland has the feats of one of the country's greatest coaches to duplicate if he is to make a hit, and he has a pretty small nucleus left over from last year with which to work. Graduation last fall removed both his star guards, Beidleson and Templeton; Captain Jordan, end; Shuler, quarterback; and two of his best halfbacks, Flanagan and Bohren.

Moreover, mighty swift action is necessary on Sutherland's part for with only one preliminary game—that with Grove City, on September 27, Pittsburgh must tackle Lafayette on October 4 and West Virginia on October 11. Syracuse comes on the first of November, Washington and Jefferson on November 15 and Penn State, the big final, on November 27. But the thing that interests Sutherland most just now are these two early October contests.

Williamson is Sutherland's assistant, having been brought back from Grove City College where he coached last year, and Carlson, with Templeton of last year's team is handling the freshmen team.

The situation out on the Pacific Coast is a most interesting one, and the general feeling is that the luck is coming Glenn Warner's way. The report that Blewett, of California, has been disqualified adds to this idea. Elmer Henderson, of Southern California, is grooming a strong team and Bagshaw of Washington is looking for results this season. All this puts a mighty hard proposition before Andy Smith, the California coach. Smith has established a good system but it will have a severe test this year with not only Warner, but Bagshaw and Henderson waiting to attack any weaknesses that appear in the California line-up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Columbia's football squad of 40 men, as it is working out daily now on Baker field under Percy Haughton, is scarcely half the size it will be after college opens September 24, but already the squad looks more like a football one and is sounder in fundamentals than any the Blue and White has turned out for a long time.

Taking advantage of the cool spell, Haughton has been pushing the work hard, counting very wisely upon the fact that if a hot spell comes along, he will have to let up a bit, for some of his material is lighter now than it should be, owing probably to the fact that the men kept fairly conditioned this summer. Haughton could do with a few more heavies as a bulwark to his line and these may show up after the 24th.

Roscow Fitts and Douglas Lawson, the former a backfield and kicking coach, and the latter a line coach, are not with Haughton this year. The others plus Frank Brodie, the only addition to the staff, are handling the squad in good shape. The coaching list includes besides Haughton, Paul Withington, Billie Murray, Charlie Crowley, Robert Burr, all of Harvard; Depler, University of Illinois, and Brodie, a last year's graduate of Columbia.

STEFANSSON RETURNING

COACHES TRY TO OFFSET NEW RULE

Digging Trench for Ball In Kick-Off Takes Place Of Former Tee

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK Sept. 20.—Coaches who have already begun preliminary work with their football squads are giving a great deal of attention to the kick-off problem.

Realization that at the kick-off a ball may not be held came with a disagreeable shock to certain eminent coaches who had forgotten that the rule governing this play stipulates that all players must be behind the ball.

They have been digging a groove in the gridiron. The ball is placed over it and thus the kicker is able to get his toe under when sending it away. Tom Thorpe, New York university coach, says that the expedient is working very well and he has no doubt it will be generally employed.

To Prevent Delay

If no player in an all-important game catches his foot in this gridiron canyon and thus brings to an abrupt close a brilliant dash for touchdown, it is not likely the football rules committee men will take action against the groove scheme next winter.

The intent of the rule doing away with artificial tees was not to prevent distance at the kick-off, but to put a stop to delays incidental to moulding tees.

Plenty of distance is attained when the ball is kicked from over a groove, although the soaring flights of the tee kick-off has not been attained. The ball seeks a lower trajectory.

Harris & White Tailor Shop Is Opened Today

Harris & White, popular priced tailors, opened today at 107 West Broadway. Their shop is located on the premises, they state, in extending an invitation to the public to come and get acquainted, inspect their stock and see why their slogan is "tailors who know how." They have come to Glendale to stay, state Harris & White, and with the co-operation of the public will build an institution that will be known throughout the city for fair dealing, courtesy and economy.

Their policy is to let the materials, workmanship and prices speak for themselves. No "high pressure" salesmanship methods will be employed to gain customers, they declare, nor will they hold any "fake sales" to stimulate business. Honest goods and honest workers will be combined, according to Harris & White, into honest garments that will in themselves be the best advertisement and the best stimulus to their business.

FINANCE CONCERN OFFERING PRIZES

Gibraltar Corporation to Pay Cash for Letters Regarding Business

money in a firm that pays 8 per cent on its preferred stock and where their money would be secured by first mortgages on the land, something that cannot be taken away."

Details of Offer

In order to widen the knowledge of the people of Glendale regarding the nature of the operations that the corporation plans to carry on, the firm is offering three prizes of $100 each for letters giving the best descriptions of the mortgage and finance business. The details of their offer follow:

"Here's a little 'easy money.' One hundred dollars for a letter, and no 'strings' to worry about. If you know anything about the mortgage and finance business you are aware that it is one of the safest and best paying undertakings in the world. Realizing this, you are right in line for one of the three prizes of $100 each that will be given for three letters on the subject.

" 'Why are the securities of the Gibraltar Finance corporation such a wonderful opportunity for investors?'

"Nothing could be easier. If you have lived in this section for any length of time you know that buying and selling mortgages, financing homes, etc., is a safe and highly profitable business. The judges of the contest will be announced later. The letters winning the prizes will be published in the paper in which this story appears. This contest is subject to termination without notice.

Main Officers Here

"The Gibraltar Finance corporation has its main office at 218 South Brand boulevard, Glendale, with John J. Lamberty, manager, and with branches at 1524 Cahuenga avenue, Hollywood, J. Ray Size, manager, and 626 East Colorado street, Pasadena, Jack P. Royle, manager.

"This corporation is handling the buying and selling of mortgages, trust deeds, contracts and the like. Its operations also include the loaning of money on first and second paper for refinancing. It is making automobile loans, straight and amortized building loans, etc. It is, in short, doing a general mortgage and financing business.

"The men behind this concern need little introduction. Just look them over. President, Marvin Smith; vice president, A. G. Smith; secretary and treasurer, George Farmer; directors, J. E. Barney, Harry Ellison, J. Roy Size and John J. Lamberty. Just a word about these men:

"Marvin Smith has, during the past two years, been instrumental in the sale of three large tracts of land, where the sales totaled more than $2,000,000. He earned for himself during that period more than $250,000. He sold out the Wing Tract, Glendale, in lots totaling $400,000, in nine weeks. In ninety days he sold out Country Club Highlands, on Pico between Los Angeles and Venice, the sales totaling $1,250,000. Then there was Virginia Place, Los Angeles, where sales totaled more than $500,000. Besides being a salesmanager he was a large owner in each of these tracts. He has also purchased many thousands of dollars' worth of trust deeds and mortgages for his own personal investments.

"A. G. Smith has been in the building and finance business for twenty years, having built more than 300 homes in and around Glendale. He has large property interests in Arizona and various parts of Southern California.

Experienced Banker

"George Farmer is now cashier of the Glendale State bank and was formerly with the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank for several years. He has had years of experience in handling loans and in making appraisals of thousands of dollars' worth of mortgages.

"J. E. Barney is a prominent realtor of Glendale. He probably has handled more property than any other single realtor in Glendale during the past three or four years. He was formerly in the loan and appraisal business in Boston and Phoenix.

"Harry Ellison is manager of the Oakmont Country club and formerly held a like position with the Phoenix, Arizona, Country club.

"J. Roy Size, salesmanager of the Pasadena office, has had years of experience in the realty and loan business.

"John J. Lamberty is an electrical engineer of note, who has spent the past several years in the loan and building business.

"These are all men of action—men who think things out and then put them into practice. They have put things over in their own particular field and are determined to make this corporation second to none in its particular line in all California.

Brings High Returns

"There is very little that needs to be said in the way of boosting of the mortgage and finance business. Thinking men, generally, concede it to be almost without parallel so far as safety and high returns are concerned. This is a business which, if properly handled, is absolutely free from the speculative feature. Easterners are pouring into Southern California daily and they must have homes. To finance these homes loans must be made, mortgages must be executed, bought and sold. Right there is where this corporation makes its profit.

"This is not a 'close concern.' Those controlling the policies of the Gibraltar Finance corporation, which is capitalized at $1,000,000, have decided to permit a limited number of Southern California residents to participate in the profits of the business. They are suggesting that the thinking people of this part of the country consider the possibility for returns in a corporation of this character, to investigate well the personnel and methods of operation of this corporation and then make their investment—resting assured they have made an excellent selection for their investing funds.

Method of Selling

"The stock of this finance corporation is being sold on a basis of two shares of preferred and one share of common for $200. The preferred bears interest at a rate of 8 per cent per annum and will be retirable in five years at the option of the corporation at $105 per share. There is no par value to the common stock, which will participate in all the dividends of the company over 8 per cent per annum. This stock is tax exempt in California and the dividends free from normal federal income tax. It is being sold on either the 'cash' or the 'easy payment' plans. Six per cent interest will be credited to the subscriber on all installments paid for each calendar month until the purchase price of the stock is paid in full.

"The element of safety is the one big feature in connection with the operations of this concern. Nothing could be safer. They are based on land values, which constitute the most stable thing in the world. Before a paper is purchased or a loan made there is a strict survey of the property made. Only where the values are beyond doubt is a deal consummated. The men at the head of this concern have the ability to appraise property correctly as they have given years of thought and study to this particular line.

"The essay contest here announced is just as clean-cut as any of the other operations of this concern, and it illustrates the way this corporation does business. The writers of each of the three letters accepted will receive $100 in cash. The contest will not be a long one. This is indicated by the fact that the management reserves the right to terminate it without notice. Those wishing to enter letters should do so promptly."

Enrollment for night school courses will take place Monday and Tuesday nights, September 22 and 23, from 7 until 9 o'clock, at the Harvard High school, where the school will be conducted.

List of Subjects

Many subjects are offered, including, in addition to public speaking and dramatics, the following:

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Sept. 20.—The local branch library compares favorably with the other thirteen Carnegie branches of the Los Angeles public library system, it is revealed in the annual report of Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, librarian.

Circulation of books for home use was about 183,000. In one local month over 9200 were distributed to local patrons. About 4000 people regularly patronize the library.

It is interesting to note that about 73 per cent of the books used were fiction. Naturally no count is kept of the reference work in the library, Mrs. Gardiner states, as the books for that phase of the work do not circulate. The percentage of children's reading is about 33 per cent.

The staff is now composed of four people: Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, librarian; Miss Marjorie Ball and Miss Floy Drake, junior assistants, and Glena Gardiner, page. There is also a part-time janitor to take care of the library and grounds.

The Los Angeles railway has announced its schedule for the convenience of Eagle Rock students who attend Franklin High this fall. It follows:

The schedule of the York boulevard bus will provide for six trips between 7:22 and 8:38 a. m. for the convenience of Franklin High school students living in Eagle Rock. A bus will leave York boulevard and Glassell road at 7:22, 7:37, 7:52, 8:22 and 8:38 a. m.

David Wilson, who has enjoyed his summer vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilson, of Loy Lane, has returned to Champaign University of Illinois.

The Occidental college Y. W. C. A. held its annual "Dove Reception" yesterday afternoon in the new reception hall, when every first-year girl was assigned a "big sister," who will be responsible for her during the year.

This was the first get-together of the Y. W. C. A. girls this fall and was an occasion of much jollification, the large reception hall being crowded and gay with colors.

A number of new professors have been added to the Occidental college staff, among them Dr. H. Hugh S. Lowther, who now heads the Latin department. He was professor of the romance languages in the college of the city of New York for several years, and taught French at the University of Southern California from 1920 to 1922. He is also a member of the Phi Betta Kappa fraternity.

Robert Grant Martin, formerly associate professor of English at the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., who is spending the year in California, has been added to the English department. Professor Martin is a member of the Phi Betta Kappa fraternity, and holds a Ph. D. degree from Harvard. He has written several English text books, and college officials feel fortunate in securing his services for the year.

Thomas Howard Wright, graduate of Columbia university and holder of an M. A. degree from that institution, has been secured for the philosophy department, and will give a special course on this subject.

Sixteen families from the town of Kensett, La., a number of which now reside in Eagle Rock, recently held a picnic at Bixby's park, Long Beach.

Miss Olive Kier of Oakland, who has spent the summer with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Broderick of Lockhaven avenue, has returned to that city, where she teaches.

MAN, AGE 60, HANGED

HAZLEHURST, Ga., Sept. 20.—Warren Waters, aged 60, was hanged here for the murder of T. K. Kersey, a Hazlehurst policeman, several months ago.

There never has been, never will be, more attractive, popular and practical duplex homes than are built in Glendale.

Investors are shrewdly watching for the best possible spot to embed their savings. Glendale has proved herself the valley metropolis, "Fastest Growing City in America," community of fine homes, schools, churches, thriving business.

The newcomer to Glendale is impressed by the newness and the cleanliness of its business and residential district, by the lack of dirt and unsightliness, and by the great wide main business thoroughfares. Glendale is situated close to the queen of cities, Los Angeles, to the delightful sea side resorts, and magnificent mountain scenery, cool breezes in summer, freedom from frost in the winter, all the conveniences of the larger city, but where home life has a wealth of meaning. Is it any wonder that investors are putting their savings in Glendale property?

The above plan is furnished by the Bentley Lumber Co., situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. This duplex is one of hundreds of similar designs on exhibition in their offices. Plans and specifications for this and any other home selected from their service may be procured on short notice. There is no charge to customers for plans and specifications. All building information is free.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Sept. 20.—The Tujunga Valley Realty board took a strong stand on the forest fire problem at the last meeting, two resolutions of sweeping content being adopted at the last meeting.

One of these resolutions directed attention to the administration of mountain land in this vicinity from Washington, D. C., and urged that consideration be given by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors to the recently enacted legislation by Congress, whereby municipalities may acquire and directly govern their adjacent mountain and public parks. The board indicated that road and reforestation work might well become a source of county income that could be used to protect the entire watershed in this district.

The other resolution adopted by the Tujunga Valley Realty board reiterates the conviction that no automobile should be permitted to enter the forest reserve without a fire shovel attached, and that all motorists using the foothill highways for the remainder of the dry season should carry such a shovel.

Deputy Fire Warden Leo L. Lang, in charge of fire fighting units in the Verdugo hills territory, has perfected his organization of volunteers to the point where he has 200 shovels and twelve extinguishers ready to rush to any point in the hills at a moment's notice. Four patrolmen are on duty along the ridges and at the base of the hills from Glendale to the opposite end. Lang requests that anyone detecting smoke at any place in the hills report it at once, and then make all speed to the place to render assistance. Jack Wells and Ted Montgomery are patrolling the ridges on horseback, and Charles Cable and Bert Holligan patrol the bases in automobiles.

Mrs. Mary K. Forster, pioneer resident of Tujunga, died Wednesday at her home, 140 North Cedar street, following an illness of some time. The funeral services were held this morning at the Tujunga Catholic chapel on Manzanita Drive. Mrs. Forster was an ardent Catholic and it was at her home several years ago that the small local colony met and planned the chapel where Father Tonello is now pastor. She leaves a wide circle of friends, besides her family to mourn her demise. Eight children and nineteen grandchildren survive, among them Miss Mercedes Forster, who last month won the distinction of being the most popular girl in the Verdugo Hills in a contest conducted by the American Legion, Post 250. Sons and daughters surviving are: Edward, Joseph, Leo and Jacob Forster, Mrs. Lilly Redinger, of Glendale; Mrs. Catherine Blake, Mrs. Marcella Glynn and Miss Mary Forster.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Sept. 20.—Of the ten major road projects which the Los Angeles City Council has voted to carry out at once, two vitally concern this city. One is the proposed truck highway, to relieve the congestion along San Fernando boulevard; the other is the long-contemplated Riverside drive project.

Information has also been received to the effect that the flood control department has been ordered to proceed at once in establishing the grades of the channel along the Los Angeles river, so that work can begin on the proposed bridge which will connect Victory boulevard with Riverside drive. This survey, it is understood, has been the only thing which has stood in the way of going ahead with this bridge.

Next Tuesday night is the date of the monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley. It is to be held in Van Nuys, and Manager J. W. Charleville of the local chamber asks that Burbank send a fine large delegation to the neighboring city on that night, that a spirit of friendliness and co-operation may be shown. The meeting will be held at St. Mark's Episcopal church, corner of Sylvan and Cedros streets, west of Sherman way, the dinner to be served at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. R. C. Holland, 508 Santa Anita avenue, entertaiend friends from Bakersfield at a dinner party Wednesday night. They were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller. She and Mrs. Miller were former school friends.

The City Trustees have been petitioned by residents above Third street for an assessment district to finance an extension of the forthcoming sewer into that territory. Although definite action has not been taken, the board has received the petition favorably, with the intimation that definite action will be taken at the meeting next week. In that meantime it is suggested by those favoring the project that others living in the territory represented who desire to have the lateral system put in, put their names on the petition. One of the petitions can be found at the office of the city clerk, and others are in the hands of circulators.

Mrs. J. Paul Munkelt of New York City is in Burbank for a visit of a couple of months at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Kirk, at 211 East Kenneth road. Mrs. Munkelt is the wife of the noted music composer, J. Jaul Munkelt of New York City, who has contributed an unusually large number of piano compositions to the musical world.

The Burbank Chamber of Commerce will go on the air at 9 o'clock next Monday night, September 22, and continue to agitate the ether for the period of one hour. In other words, the Burbank chamber has been given this particular hour to put on a program to be sent over KHJ.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McFall and niece, Miss Watson, of Santa Anita avenue, and Doris and Harold Hench, of Cypress avenue, have returned from Big Bear valley.

JEWISH SCHOOL

Opening session of the Glendale Jewish Religious school will be held at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway. The regular staff will have as a new member Andrew Stodel, graduate pupil of Dr. Edgar T. Magnin.

John Cotton Tells of English Artists' Work

English artists and their works were discussed by John Cotton, Glendale artist, at the meeting of the Glendale Art Association held in the Juvenile Hall of the Public Library last night. Mr. Cotton was in charge of the round table and in discussing different English artists mentioned those whom he had met while studying in Europe and related interesting incidents connected with his meeting with them.

Designs of the Glendale flags entered in the recent contest were shown members of the association as was also the flag which won the prize. The exhibit in the public library this month was arranged by the Glendale artists who are members of the Glendale Art association. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments of punch and wafers were served by Mrs. B. S. Warner. The next meeting of the organization will be held October 5 in the afternoon and Mrs. Julia Nichols will be the speaker.

Back After Vacation At Lake Co. Resort

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Buckner, of 705 East Acacia avenue, returned home yesterday from a most delightful three and one-half months' motor trip to Clear Lake Highlands, Lake County, California. While away Mr. Buckner built a large dance pavilion on the lake shore and remodeled the home of Jack Sabree, vice-president of Clear Lake Highlands. Mr. Buckner reports that Clear Lake Highlands is a fine place and predicts that it will soon be a popular all year round resort. The lake is said to be from one to ten miles in width and thirty miles long, with beautiful hills and timber on shore.

Odd Fellows Gather For Open-Air Meeting

Orientals from Kalos Sanctorum, No. 204, Riverside, came to Glendale today to attend the big open-air ceremonial in the Verdugo Woodlands park. Comus Sanctorum of Los Angeles, and Haoma Sanctorum of Santa Ana also joined in the big gathering of Odd Fellows. A brilliant parade was held this afternoon, the lodge men, many of whom were Glendalians, marching up Brand boulevard and out to the park, where the ceremonial was held at 3 o'clock. Tonight there will be a picnic dinner and a dance.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—With the exception of the oil group and a small number of railroad and industrial stocks, the stock market recorded higher prices in the short session today. Market activity was mostly in continuation of the narrow professional movement which has been in progress for the last few weeks. Short covering in specialty stocks accounted for most of the strength of that section of the market. Investment buying of dividend shares like National Biscuit, Great Northern preferred, U. S. Steel, Corn Products, etc., continued in good volume. The bond market was not active but prices were firm. Liberty bonds fractionally higher. Foreign government bonds inactive. Stock sales today: 399,000 shares; bonds $7,395,000. Stock sales for the week: 3,998,000 shares; bonds $67,689,000.

CLAIMS DECLINE OF OLD PARTIES

La Follette Modern Crusader For People, Declares Glendale Supporter

Editor of The Evening News—Believing that the Evening News as a representative newspaper, is willing to present both sides of a vital question on which men differ in their search for truth, I submit the following article in answer to certain attacks recently made against the Progressive party and their leader, Robert M. La Follette.

The Republican party has been a great party; as the party of Lincoln it has accomplished more good than any other party in our history, and it is with great regrets that we have watched its decline. Both of the old parties have long since ceased to function as representative of popular government, and have become merely the instruments by which special privilege and unearned wealth maintain their nefarious system; and we face a political crisis today because we can no longer trust them to govern. Therefore there is nothing left for men who love principle more than party but leave the hulk and get aboard the Progressive ship, whose platform and principles now embody and represent far more of the spirit of democracy than is left in either of the old parties.

Under False Colors

These old socalled ships of state have been sailing under false colors for many years, for since when have they not harbored a pirate crew to prey upon the people and levy unjust tribute of the many for the special benefit of the few? When pursued and overtaken by an outraged public they have taken refuge in the sanctuary of the Constitution and the Federal courts, both of which institutions were created for public protection and not for private graft.

Usurpation by the supreme court of powers not granted them under the constitution is common knowledge, and has been vigorously attacked by Theodore Roosevelt and many other statesmen of undoubted integrity and patriotism. They also endured hostile criticism and were dubbed "Radicals" just as Robert M. La Follette is today and has been for years the target of slanderous abuse from every participant in public graft, from the international banker who would plunge a nation into war to secure the safety of a private investment clear down to a powerful Republican politician and attorney general whose unparalleled graft ring made "Ali Baba's Forty Thieves" look like a bunch of small boys in a melon patch.

The Modern Crusader

It requires a high order of courage to uncover fraud in high places and tear the mask from hypocrisy that sits on a throne; the King of democracy. "The Prince of Peace," did so and was crucified. He was also radical, as right must ever be in the presence of wrong.

If we are ever to possess a real democracy in government, and to feel the thrill and buoyant hope that will come to all with the knowledge of full freedom under the law made and interpreted alike for all men, we must get rid of the system that fosters graft and corruption in office. We owe to La Follette a debt of gratitude for it was he and his co-workers that exposed some of the unspeakable graft and rottenness, and the system by which it has so long flourished.

For more than a quarter of a century the figure of Robert M. La Follette has stood in the arena of American politics, often a solitary figure fighting alone, a lion among wolves bent on his destruction; and still he stands the modern crusader fighting a people's battle, many of whom today would weep tears of repentance if they knew the truth.

Original Army & Navy Store Plans Big Sale

The original Army & Navy store at 201 South Brand boulevard will go out of business within thirty days, as Stephen W. Huntington, proprietor, has decided to retire and take a trip to Europe with his family. The store will be closed Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, he states, to rearrange the entire stock of goods for a monster "Unloading Sale" at prices that have been ruthlessly slashed for an immediate liquidation. In making this announcement, Mr. Huntington wishes to thank his many friends in Glendale and surrounding points for their splendid patronage during the several years he has been in business at this location, and he states that it is his earnest desire at this time to forget about profits and unload his goods with the utmost speed.

The sale will offer, at prices in many cases far below actual cost, such articles as wearing apparel, army and navy goods, tents, cots, auto camping and hiking equipment of all kinds. As Mr. Huntington must vacate his store within thirty days, he will mark his goods so that when the big "Unloading Sale" opens on Thursday, September 25, the stock will go fast. Announcements in The Glendale Evening News on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, according to Mr. Huntington, will contain detailed information concerning this mammoth liquidation.
